Beatings Described By Bucher

CORONADO (UPI) — The skipper of the USS Pueblo said he was beaten and kicked from the moment he was taken into captivity by the North Koreans and told that he and all his men would be shot at sunset on the first day.

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, resuming testimony before a naval Board of Inquiry, moved into the portion of his ordeal in which the crew was held for 11 months in prison.

Bucher said that a Communist army general, speaking through an interpreter, said to him:

"You are all going to be shot today. Do you want it one at a time or all together?"

SKIPPER'S REPLY

The 41-year-old commander said he stood up and asked that he be shot and that his men be returned to their ship and be permitted to leave.

Bucher said he was shoved down into a chair and that a colonel made a move as if to strike him in the face but the general restrained him.

The court yesterday informed Bucher that he was suspected of violation of the naval code and might face a court martial for losing the intelligence ship.

When the court reconvened today Bucher took up his narrative from the time the crew was taken ashore into Wonsan and then transported by bus and train to a building at a location he did not know.

He said he was kicked in the small of the back and in the legs and struck with rifle butts repeatedly. At one time he turned on one of his tormentors, he said, and three soldiers grabbed him and threw him to the ground.

SECRECY ISSUE

Bucher was questioned about his narrative yesterday on partial destruction of some secret material. He replied that all of the classified material for which he had signed was destroyed.

When Bucher was warned by the Navy that he may face a court martial he was also told that he need answer no more questions about the capture of the ship or subsequent events.

Bucher replied that he wanted to tell the full story.

The Navy threw the ball back to Bucher after the commander told a lengthy story of lack of destruction capabilities, desperate pleas for American aircraft that never came and a

Novatan Dies In Vietnam Crash Landing

Capt. Milo G. Maahs, 31, of 2630 Center Road, Novato, was killed Tuesday in a plane crash in Vietnam, according to word received yesterday by his wife, Donna L. Maahs.

Captain Maahs lost his life making an emergency landing in his F-100 Super Sabre jet fighter, the exact location not known. He was thrown from the plane and killed, according to word received by his wife.

A native of Wendell, Minn., Captain Maahs had been in the Air Force for the past 11 years. He had been stationed with the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force base until six months ago when he was sent to Vietnam.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three sons, Dana, 5; Darren, 4; and David, 1, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Maahs and a brother, Loren Maahs, all of Wendell, Minn.

The body will be sent to Fort Snelling, Minn. for funeral and burial.

Police Arrest 100 At State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Club - swinging police this afternoon broke up a strike rally at San Francisco State College and arrested at least 100 in the first mass arrests since minority students began a violent strike Nov. 6.

One striker among a group of about 200 who were surrounded at a speakers' platform dropped a fully loaded .22-caliber revolver.

Hickel Is Confirmed By Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted belated confirmation today of Walter J. Hickel to be secretary of the interior, completing President Nixon's 12-member cabinet. The vote was 73-16.

Hickel, a 49-year-old self-made millionaire businessman, was the only Nixon nominee to fail to get unanimous approval from the Senate. The other 11 cabinet members were confirmed Monday shortly after Nixon's inauguration and were sworn in yesterday.

Hickel however drew opposition from a small but aroused bloc of senators because of his statements on conservation issues and was questioned at length about his financial holdings.

NIXON PREVAILS

In the end, the traditional argument that a President was entitled to a cabinet of his own choosing prevailed.

The bulk of the opposition to the Alaska governor developed following a widely publicized news conference last December when he said:

He did not believe in conservation simply for conservation's sake.

He felt water quality standards might be set so high that industrial development might be retarded.

PARK AREAS

Public parks and wilderness areas should be managed for the enjoyment of the greatest number of people.

These views were strongly challenged by some conservation groups.

Opposition also developed because of Hickel's close ties with the oil industry.

The Senate Interior Committee examined the Alaskan for five days in both public and private sessions.

By a split vote, 14 to 3, the committee recommended Senate confirmation after Hickel agreed to pre-conditions involving his personal finances, water quality standards and land claims in his state by Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians.

The governor agreed to keep a Johnson administration freeze on public lands during the two-year duration of the new Congress; he agreed to abide by present water quality standards and guidelines for cleaning up the nation's polluted rivers; he agreed to divest himself of all financial holdings that might involve him in a conflict of interest.

Tornadoes Maul Mississippi; 28 Dead, Many Are Missing

Hospital Treats 115 After Dawn Storm

HAZLEHURST, Miss. (UPI) — Deadly tornadoes cut through the heart of southern Mississippi's gently rolling hill country at sunrise today, tossing homes and cars about like playthings and killing at least 28 persons.

Countless others were missing and rescuers dug frantically through settlements destroyed in the terror of the dawn in search of more victims.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol said there were 10 known dead in Hazlehurst in Copiah County where 30 to 35 homes were damaged and about 20 demolished; another 14 were reported dead in neighboring Simpson County; and four more persons, all members of the same family, were killed when their house in the White Oak community in east Mississippi was destroyed.

The hospital in Hazlehurst treated 115 persons and transferred others to neighboring hospitals. The hospital in Mendenhall, the Simpson county seat, also reported it was sending casualties to nearby hospitals.

WATCHEES FUNNEL
"I stood in the door of my restaurant and watched it," said C. Lell Fenter of Hazlehurst. "It was not good daylight and it sounded like four freight trains coming through town. The air was filled with debris and the wind was really blowing."

The Red Cross in Atlanta said it was dispatching three disaster specialists to Mississippi to aid in rescue operations.

The area in Hazlehurst hit by the tornado was a Negro community located in a valley near a large sawmill.

'AWFUL SOUND'
Mrs. Edna Knight said she was asleep in her home with her husband, their two daughters and two sons when "I heard an awful sound. I thought 'Lord, there's the mill whistle and the boys are going to be late for work.'"

She said the house then began shaking and she realized it was a tornado.

"I threw myself over the girls and then I tried to shove them under the bed. The house was lifted and twisted on the foundation."

An ambulance driver, Chester White of Brookhaven, one of the first persons on the scene, said "there was a body lying beside the road and another in the hollow when I arrived."

He said he later found the body of a woman. "She was blown about 200 yards from the highway, tangled up in the vines."

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Jackson—30 miles to the north—said the tornado cut a gigantic gap more than a mile long and a half mile wide through Hazlehurst, then rose into the sky and was traced by radar into adjoining Simpson County where it struck the Harrisville-St. John's-Mendenhall area.

The driver of the car and a motorcycle police outrider were injured, it said.

"The person who fired the shots was detained on the spot," Tass said. "An investigation is being conducted."

Official sources, who had disclosed the shooting incident earlier, said the man was "mentally deranged."

These sources said the man fired five bullets from two pistols at the motorcade outside the Kremlin gate.

The cosmonauts were en route to a reception in the Kremlin in honor of the four space men who made history by carrying out the first docking of manned vehicles and the first space walk between two spacecrafts last week. The ceremony was held as scheduled.

Unofficial sources said a veteran cosmonaut suffered minor injuries from limousine windows broken in the shooting.

According to unofficial sources, a crowd cheering the space heroes grabbed the attacker—said to be a mentally unbalanced 29-year-old — and took his pistols. Soviet security men hustled the man away.

Communist party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny, two of the most powerful Kremlin leaders, were riding in a motorcade behind the four cosmonauts. The sources said the two leaders, in enclosed vehicles, were not touched.

Cosmonauts Parade Hit By Shooting

MOSCOW (UPI)—A young man fired on the triumphal motorcade of Soviet cosmonauts through Moscow yesterday and injured a chauffeur and a policeman, the official news agency Tass reported tonight.

None of the cosmonauts, including the newest space heroes, was hurt, it said.

Tass said the gunman fired on the second car in the motorcade which carried the world's only woman cosmonaut, Valentina Tereshkova, and several other veteran space men.

The driver of the car and a motorcycle police outrider were injured, it said.

New College Tax Override Is Urged

The citizen's finance committee of the Marin Junior College District last night recommended that the district board call another tax override election to finance two campuses through the 1980-81 fiscal year.

It agreed to leave the override amount up to the district board, which meets at 8 p.m. today at the College of Marin.

Dale A. Fleming, district director of planning and research, said today that the tax required would be a 60-cent tax override for four years in addition to the 35-cent tax override the district is now receiving.

Fleming said the total needed for capital outlay for the two campuses—College of Marin and the proposed Novato campus—from the 1969-70 fiscal year through the 1980-81 fiscal year is $32.7 million. He said federal and state maximum funding would be $11.3 million, that the district has $2 million in reserve, and that the amount needed would be $19.4 million.

He said the 60-cent tax would provide this $19.4 million.

The committee's action came in the form of a resolution that a review by the committee disclosed that the staff figures are valid, that the district has had success with previous "pay-as-you-go" tax overrides, and that a tax override would be the appropriate means of raising the revenue.

The recommendation would rule out the possibility of a bond issue.

The committee discussed the possibility of such a tax override issue, if approved by the board, going on the April 15 election ballot. Already scheduled for April 15 is an election

Senator Wants End To Electoral College

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh served notice today a subcommittee he heads will consider all alternatives to the present system of electing a president, but renewed his call for direct election by popular vote.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, assistant Republican leader, proposed a constitutional amendment to do away with the office of presidential elector but to allocate electoral votes by congressional districts rather than states. Other alternatives to the Electoral College system are pending.

Bayh spoke out as his subcommittee on constitutional amendments reopened hearings on the various proposals—including Bayh's amendment for direct popular election of presidents.

He said this country came as close as it safely could last year to demonstrating defects of the present system "without having to experience the disastrous consequences of an electoral mishap."

Called as leadoff witnesses by Bayh were three senators, two of them advocates of direct popular election.

Tennessee's Howard H. Baker Jr. and Oklahoma's Henry Bellmon, both Republicans, are among more than 30 sponsors of a constitutional amendment that would abolish the electoral college and replace it with a direct election system.

The third witness, Republican Peter H. Dominick, of Colorado, supports elements of two rival plans, one providing for a division of electoral votes in proportion to the popular vote and the Scott proposal.

Under Scott's plan, a presidential ticket winning the plurality of a state's popular vote would win two electoral votes corresponding to the state's representation in the Senate.

The ticket also would win one additional electoral vote for each congressional district it carried by a plurality.

The presidential ticket receiving a majority of the total number of electoral votes would be elected, Scott said.

Berkeley Picketing Continues; U.C. Officials Seek Arson Clue

BERKELEY (UPI) — Fire investigators said today arsonists apparently set the $500,000 fire that burned out Wheeler Hall, main auditorium on the University of California campus.

The three-alarm blaze last night climaxed the first day of a strike by militant student groups and unionized graduate teaching assistants.

The strikers, members and supporters of the Third World Liberation Front and the American Federation of Teachers, threw up picket lines at campus entrances again today.

"We can't say for certain it was arson, but we haven't found any other cause," said Capt. Lloyd Gayer, deputy fire marshal. "It was a very suspicious fire and we have eliminated all accident or natural causes."

The building was firebombed Monday, but that fire was quickly extinguished.

Witnesses told campus police they saw "several persons running from the building before the fire," which swept the 936-seat auditorium and caused smoke and water damage to classrooms and offices in the building last night.

Students in a poetry class meeting on the third floor said they heard explosions just before the fire erupted. Peter Scott, an assistant English professor, said he and his 10 students smelled smoke, located the fire and were trying to quench it with emergency fire hoses when Berkeley firemen arrived.

The English class and a professor in a fourth floor office left the building safely. There were no injuries.

University officials, who estimated damage at $500,000, shifted classes out of Wheeler Hall, which has 62 classrooms and 47 offices in addition to the auditorium.

AFT Locals 1474 and 1570, which went on strike yesterday to support striking teachers at San Francisco State College, condemned the apparent firebombing of the building. They blamed elements trying to discredit their strike.

Sirhan Trial Jury Maneuvers Continue

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A juror was seated and another excused today in the continuing legal maneuvering to choose a panel of 12 to try Sirhan B. Sirhan for the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The defense exercised its fifth peremptory challenge to dismiss Carolyn Freeman, who said during questioning she leaned toward the death penalty. The prosecution also has used five of its 20 challenges.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Battle Deaths

MANILA (AP) — Six men were killed and seven others wounded in a gun battle yesterday between two Moslem factions in the southern island of Sulu, the Philippine national police announced.

New Cabinet

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A 16-man cabinet was formed for Lebanon today, resolving a government crisis resulting from the Israeli raid on the Beirut airport.

Premier Rashid Karami said he had formed "a cabinet of action" that will apply compulsory military service, fortify the border with Israel, serve the Palestine cause "by every means and method," and coordinate policy with other Arab countries.

Karami in former months had been considered a hawk on the question of Arab-Israeli relations, and his designation as premier by President Charles Helou was expected to result in a harder line against Israel, including permission for Palestine guerrillas to use Lebanon as a base for commando raids.

Powell Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell is continuing his legal fight against the House of Representatives despite its decision to take him back.

Powell's lawyers told the Supreme Court yesterday that the House had not ended the controversy by seating him, but actually "continued the unlawful and unconstitutional action" of the 90th Congress by fining him and taking away his seniority.

The lawyers urged the court to order that the $25,000 fine levied by the House last month be voided and that he be given $55,000 in back pay he missed while he was out of office. He was excluded in March 1967 on grounds of "gross misconduct."

The court is scheduled to hear the Harlem Democrat's case late next month or in early February.

Bishops Accord

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today a major new accord on bishop's appointments with the Communist government of Hungary but made it clear that the case of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty still is not settled.

The accord provided for the Vatican appointment of two new archbishops, two bishops and five apostolic administrators.

The agreement, over two years in the making in a series of secret negotiations, followed the historic breakthrough of 1964 when the Holy See and Budapest reached agreement to negotiate on Church-state relations.

Bonn Aide Quits

BONN, Germany (AP) — Eugen Gerstenmaier, figurehead of the West German parliament for the last 14 years, announced today a decision to resign in a crisis centering on his resistance role in the Hitler era.

The 62-year-old Bundestag president, or parliament speaker — second highest holder of state office — dropped the bombshell at a meeting of Christian Democratic Party leaders probing the background of a $70,250 reparations payment to him for persecution by the Nazis.

New Cosmos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched Cosmos 264, an unmanned satellite designed for space research of an undisclosed nature.

An announcement said the craft was put into an orbit with a high point of 205 miles and a low point of 136 miles, with an inclination of 70 degrees to the equator. It completed its first orbit in 89.7 minutes.

Mao Rumors

HONG KONG (AP) — Rumors that Mao Tse-tung is critically ill or dead are sweeping through China again, travellers reaching Hong Kong from the mainland said today.

No confirmation of the rumors was possible. Mao is now 75.

Similar reports have circulated periodically for the past 10 years.

To Extend Treaty

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said today he intends to continue the U.S./Japan security treaty after 1970, when it comes up for review.

Sato called on the 2,000 delegates to a convention of his Liberal-Democratic party to help him rally support for the treaty and blunt the campaign by the opposition Socialist party to scrap it.

Schirra Honor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will receive an honorary doctor science degree from the University of Southern California next Wednesday, the university announced today.

Capt. Schirra, the only man to fly in the nation's Mercury, Gemini and Apollo space projects, will receive the degree from USC President Norman Topping at the annual mid-year commencement exercises in the Shrine Auditorium.

Schirra, 45, was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1945. In 1957 he attended USC's Institute of Aerospace Safety and Management.

U.S. Viet Death Toll On Increase

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 196 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the highest weekly toll since mid-December.

Headquarters also reported the loss of two more U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers over South Vietnam, raising to five the number of American warplanes shot down over the South in the past three days. Five of the six crewmen aboard the five planes were rescued. The other was killed.

Spokesmen said the five losses were the heaviest three-day toll over South Vietnam in more than seven months. The latest losses raised to 335 the number of U.S. warplanes shot down in combat over South Vietnam during the war.

While American casualties moved up last week, so did those of the South Vietnamese military and the enemy.

Government headquarters announced that 292 South Vietnamese troops were killed in action during the seven-day period ending at midnight Saturday, their highest death toll in more than three months.

Enemy casualties also hit their highest mark since last November. Allied spokesmen reported 2,420 enemy troops were killed in fighting last week.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said enemy activity increased 70 to 80 per cent in the northernmost 1st Corps area and in the central highlands, the Second Corps area.

A communique said enemy activity remained at about the same level as the previous week in the 3rd and 4th Corps zones that stretch west from Saigon to the Cambodian border and southward to include all of the Mekong Delta.

The U.S. Command said that while there have been no major actions since the first of the Lodge Plans To Blame Reds For War

PARIS (UPI)—Chief U.S. negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge will blame the Vietnam War on the Communists when expanded Vietnam talks open Saturday, diplomatic sources said today.

They said Lodge will make it clear to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong that the United States wants peace but not at any price.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky left Saigon today for Paris for his duties as supervisor of the South Vietnamese delegation at the talks.

"I don't think we will have a quick result," he said, "but we will try. We go to Paris to discuss how to end this war of aggression."

Agreement on strategy at Saturday's opening session of the expanded talks was expected to be clinched by the Allies at today's meeting of Lodge and his Saigon colleague, Pham Dang Lam.

U.S. officials said relations between the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations reflected a solid unity of views.

Diplomatic sources said Lodge has complete instructions from President Nixon and they reflect the basic aims of the outgoing Johnson administration — achieving an honorable peace and preventing a Communist takeover in Saigon.

Both Lodge and Lam will lay the blame for the war on Communist subversion backed by Hanoi manpower and finances, diplomats said.

Communist sources said North Vietnamese chief delegate Xuan Thuy and Tran Bui Kiern of the Viet Cong will demand that the conflict be settled on their terms.

The allied diplomatic sources said the U.S. and Saigon staffs had agreed not only on their strategy but the order they want the basic issues discussed.

The American and the Saigon government will call on the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong Saturday to agree to a propaganda-free, businesslike discussion to a military escalation of the war and an attempt to restore effectiveness of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) as a neutral zone separating the two Vietnams, the sources said.

Lodge also was meeting today and tomorrow with New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake, due in Saigon from a trip to Europe.

DeGaulle To Continue Job

PARIS (UPI)—In one short sentence, President Charles de Gaulle today shunted former Premier Georges Pompidou out of the headlines and into the political cartoons.

De Gaulle told his cabinet yesterday he had no intention of resigning as president before his term expires in 1972. "I have the duty and intention of fulfilling (my) mandate to its end," De Gaulle told the cabinet.

The 78-year-old president thus squashed a wave of speculation triggered by a statement made by Pompidou in Rome that he would run for president of France "when there is an election," meaning when De Gaulle retired. Pompidou repeated his ambitions later in Paris.

Many observers said Pompidou made his statement in Rome with the prior knowledge and consent of De Gaulle. Pompidou was De Gaulle's premier until last July's national elections.

'PROMISES TO KEEP'

Kennedy Drops Hint He May Run In '72

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is dropping broad hints that he may bid for the presidency in 1972—the office one brother died in and another was slain seeking.

He disguised many of the hints in humor last night at a dinner to raise money to erase the 1968 campaign deficit of his assassinated brother, Robert F. Kennedy.

But he also said of his brother, who was shot in Los Angeles just after proclaiming victory in the state's presidential primary last June 5:

"The campaign of 1968 never really ended in California because it remains with all of us.

"He often said, 'We have promises to keep.' And these are the promises which will bring all of us together so many times in the future."

For Ted Kennedy, 36, who previously has carefully avoided talk of a 1972 presidential bid, the other references to that prospect were jocular.

"My mother," he said, "called to say she had read that our new President wasn't going to use the Oval Room in the White House. She said she thought someone ought to use it."

Then, addressing some 2,500 who had paid at least $100 each to reduce the Robert Kennedy campaign deficit, he added:

"We're looking into that."

The applause was sustained, the laughter minimal.

Kennedy said he had read numerous stories that there would be a Muskie-Kennedy ticket—"or maybe a Kennedy-Muskie ticket"—running for the Democratic party in 1972.

"Let me just say," he banttered, "that Ed Muskie hasn't picked a vice president yet."

And after a long pause: "And neither have I."

Among his applauding listeners was former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has on occasion expressed to Kennedy the confidence that he will lead the nation one day. He was applauding loudly, too.

Although Kennedy has studiously avoided the 1972 candidacy he collected a number of valuable IOUs in the Democrats' unsuccessful 1968 campaign—first by refusing to accept a draft for the presidential nomination, then by discreetly, during his period of mourning, campaigning via television film for Democratic congressional candidates.

Kennedy was aware at last night's fund-raiser, of course, that Humphrey was there, along with Robert Kennedy's 1968 stand-in, Sen. George McGovern, campaign strategist Lawrence F. O'Brien, and dozens upon dozens of influential party senators and representatives.

So although he joked about 1972, he added no softening remarks to erase the impressions he had made.

The dinner was the fourth such occasion planned to help erase the estimated $3.5 million debt rolled up by Robert Kennedy in the 1968 presidential primaries. A last extravaganza has been tentatively set for Los Angeles in March.

Those who came up with $500 last night got to ride a bus to Edward Kennedy's house for a nightcap.

Even if all dinners sell out, the deficit is expected to linger at $1 million. But the Democratic National Committee has voted to chip in that much. It too, has an eye on 1972.

State Trustees Hint Talks; Reagan Irate

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — California State College trustees moved haltingly today toward possible talks with dissident San Francisco State College students. But Gov. Ronald Reagan firmly opposed any discussion "under coercion."

In a compromise move, the board unanimously approved Chairman Theodore Meriam's appointment late last year of a liaison committee to aid the San Francisco campus through meetings with administrators, faculty and students.

Nixon Seats Council For Urban Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon assembled his new Urban Affairs Council today to discuss the crises in America's cities and as the first order of business signed an executive order creating the panel.

Nixon used a succession of pens during the ceremony and joked about the difficulty of signing his name one small stroke at a time. The pens will be distributed as mementoes.

Ceremonial signings with souvenir pens are a standard White House ritual. But it was Nixon's first venture.

"That looks like your first frank when you were a congressman, Mr. President," said Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch.

"He remembers," Nixon replied. Nixon envisions the Urban Affairs Council as the domestic counterpart of the National Security Council planning and implementing efforts to deal with big city problems.

Its first session, presumably was set up as largely procedural, for the naming of staff members to conduct its day-to-day work, including sociologist Daniel P. Moynihan, assistant to the President for urban affairs.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew also will be regular council members.

A Nixon meeting yesterday with Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy produced a pledge that the new administration will contain "inherited inflationary pressures that are seriously distorting the economy and financial markets."

Kennedy said the Nixon administration will "try to get through this by taking just the steam out of the boiler, the high pressure," without disruptive economic measures which might hoist unemployment.

"We are all conscious of the risks of abrupt and blunt action that could bring unnecessary unemployment. We mean to avoid that," Kennedy said in a statement which bore Nixon's endorsement.

to fill expiring board of trustees posts.

Fleming said it was not determined whether a new tax override would replace or be additional to the existing 35-cent tax override in the district. This override expires June 30, 1972.

The committee also considered alternate proposals of tax overrides of 23 cents, 35 cents and 40 cents for operation of the two campuses for the same period, but agreed to leave that also for consideration by the board.

Little Support For Police Sports Blazer

By RICHARD BOYLE

An experiment by the Novato police to outfit an officer in a blue sports blazer instead of the traditional uniform for 90 days did not win approval of other lawmen today on the KTIM Sounding Board.

Novato Police Chief Robert J. DiGrazia said he wanted to see if people would react differently to the blazer, with a pocket insignia, instead of the military-type uniform. Sometimes law enforcement officers have old-fashioned ideas about changes, said DiGrazia.

"It may be a monumental flop," he said, but "we were willing to give it a try."

OTHER MEMBERS

Other members of the panel, Lt. James Schwedhelm of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales and Lt. Harvey E. Teague, head of the sheriff's juvenile division, did not approve.

Program moderator Kitty Oppenheimer asked if a new form of dress would bring more public respect for police officers. DiGrazia answered, "They don't have the respect now."

DiGrazia said one reason for lack of support is because of some poor officers. He added the public should keep in mind that "one bad apple" should not change their opinions of the police.

'OLD POLICEMAN'

"Everyone remembers the old policeman on the beat," said the chief. "Generally everyone liked and respected him because they knew him by his first name." Now police officers in high speed cars, he added, are removed from the public they serve.

DiGrazia told of a new plan to help the public and the police get to know each other again. Novato police are inviting high school students, representatives of service clubs and other citizens to ride in patrol cars on Friday and Saturday nights.

Teague said police should give a "strong guiding hand" to youngsters. He opposed what he called the permissive attitude of probation departments and the courts. The recent court decision compelling police to advise suspects of the right to an attorney is like telling a youngster: "You can break the cookie jar but you don't have to tell if you did it."

Teague also said he was against treating 18-year-old offenders as juveniles.

MARIJUANA USE

Schwedhelm said recent studies have shown that 18 per cent of seventh grade students have used marijuana and 41 per cent of 12th graders have taken dangerous drugs.

Bales agreed drugs are a serious problem in the county, but added that during the first six months of last year Marin's felony crime rate was down 11 per cent compared with a 5 per cent increase in the state. Bales said Marin has a high felony conviction rate.

Divorce Sought From Architect

Tiburon architect Charles Warren Callister was sued for divorce yesterday by his wife of 26 years.

Mary Frances Callister, who charged cruelty, asked the court to divide an unknown amount of community property and to grant reasonable support for herself and a minor child, Charles W. Callister Jr.

The Callisters were married in San Antonio, Tex., in 1942 and separated in October 1968. Callister has designed houses, schools, churches and housing developments throughout the Bay Area.

"hopeless" situation which he thought could lead only to the slaughter of his 83-man crew.

The orphan graduate of Boys Town, Neb., conceded the United States lost a ship without firing a shot and that he personally threw his two pistols overboard.

The five hard-nosed admirals on the board of inquiry listened with apparent increasing distaste to his final instructions, "prepare to receive Koreans aboard."

Capt. William Newsome, counsel for the court, told Bucher late yesterday afternoon that it was his duty to inform the skipper that he was suspected of violations that might lead to a trial. They provide:

"The commanding officer shall not permit his command to be searched by any persons representing a foreign state nor permit any of the personnel under his command to be removed from the command by such persons, so long as he has the power to resist."

Bucher replied that once armed Korean soldiers boarded the Pueblo he no longer had the power to resist.

tained a majority, Congress in joint session would select a president from the top three tickets," he said.

Bayh is the chief sponsor of an amendment providing that the presidential ticket winning the most popular votes would be elected, if it got more than 40 per cent of the total vote.

If no ticket received 40 per cent of the popular vote, a runoff election would be held between the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes.

Burning Ban Again Hit In Novato

The Novato Fire District board again went on record last night as opposing the proposed ban on outdoor burning at single family and duplex dwellings, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The board authorized sending a letter to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board stating the district's position that the accumulation of debris is more of a fire hazard than smoke is a health hazard, the chief said.

In addition, board chairman Peter Ferrarese and the fire chief were authorized to attend the Feb. 5 meeting of the air pollution board in the supervisors' chambers in San Francisco to protest the proposed ban.

Youth, 15, In Marijuana Case

A 15-year-old San Rafael youth was booked into Juvenile Hall yesterday on suspicion of possession of marijuana and truancy.

Police said the youth was booked after police found five cigarettes containing what appeared to be marijuana on him. He and two companions, who were not booked, were checked after residents of Greenwood Avenue reported they had disappeared into the wet brush at the end of the avenue about 9:40 a.m. yesterday.

Police said the youth was reportedly absent from school most of December without an excuse.

OBITUARIES

Fred H. Thorinon Dies At 82

Fred H. Thorinon, 82, of Novato, president of Westwood Homes Inc., a contracting firm, died yesterday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

Thorinon was born in North Dakota and worked as a carpenter until starting his firm in San Francisco in 1921. Westwood constructed hundreds of homes there and in Novato and San Rafael.

He had resided in San Francisco before moving to Novato four years ago. He lived at 285 Country Club Drive.

He was a member of the Free and Accepted Masons, Lodge 525; Ancient Accepted Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine; and Pyramid 1 of AEO Scouts. He was a charter member and lifetime director of Associated Home Builders of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn; a daughter, Mrs. Richard F. Elam of San Francisco; a stepson, Vernon Holmes of Novato and brother, Dan Thorinon of Everett, Wash.

The funeral will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at N. Gray and Co., 4009 19th Avenue, San Francisco. Entombment will be at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

WILLIAM BERGERON

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Lafferty and Smith Colonial Chapel, Santa Rosa, for William V. Bergeron, 58, of Geyserville, formerly of San Rafael, fatally injured in an automobile accident Monday on Highway 101 in Santa Rosa.

Born in Michigan, Bergeron had lived in California for 35 years. He had been employed as a plumber in Marin County for many years before moving to Geyserville 10 months ago. He operated a farm at 2244 Old Redwood Highway.

Bergeron is survived by his wife, Adell; two sons, Vincent Jay and William Jean, of the home; two daughters, Susan and Cathleen, of the home; his mother, Mrs. Etta Morrison of Long Beach, and three sisters, Mrs. Verna Voherty of Hillsborough; Virginia Bergeron of Newark, Sonoma County, and Dr. V. Lorel Bergeron of San Francisco.

MARIE DIRMER

Mrs. Marie E. Dirmer, a 40-year resident of San Anselmo, died early today at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

Car Parts Theft Suspect Jailed

A Mill Valley man was arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion of stealing automobile parts after Mill Valley police reportedly found him stripping a car on a hillside street.

John Colby Robb, 24, of 18 Hazel Avenue, was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $315 bail. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today for arraignment.

Police said officers found Robb stripping a 1959 Chevrolet parked at Jayne Street and Sunrise Avenue.

Mrs. Dirmer, 71, was born in San Francisco. She resided at 55 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, with her husband, Anthony, a retired tailor.

Other survivors include two sons, Richard W. Harder of Terra Linda and Ronald Harder of Santa Venetia, and five grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills funeral home, San Anselmo. Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Anselm's Roman Catholic Church, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

DENNY J. KIRKPATRICK

Funeral for Denny J. Kirkpatrick, 49, a Petaluma teacher, who died Tuesday after a short illness, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Home, Petaluma. Interment will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Born in St. Maries, Idaho, he served in the Air Force during World War II. After his discharge he worked as a carpenter and built and operated a motel in Stafford, Sutter County.

In 1960, Kirkpatrick returned to college and received his teaching credentials at San Jose State College. He had been an industrial arts teacher at Kenilworth Junior High School for three and one-half years.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; a daughter, Barbara Perra of Rio Della, Humboldt County, and three brothers, Allen Kirkpatrick of Michigan, Kenneth Kirkpatrick of Idaho and Robert Kirkpatrick of Oregon.

MRS. PRIMM

Jeanette Thomson Primmo of Wolfback Ridge in Sausalito died yesterday at her home following a long illness. She was 50.

A native of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Primmo lived in South Pasadena prior to moving to Marin County six years ago.

She was an active member of Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito and was founder and director of the parish pre-school. She is survived by her mother, Lillian F. Thomson of Sausalito; a sister, Margaret Meeks of Sausalito, and a brother, David Thomson of Santa Barbara.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Friday at Christ Episcopal Church. Burial will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale.

Contributions to the American Cancer Society or Christ Episcopal Church are preferred.

WILMOT RYDER

Funeral for Wilmot Ryder, 66, of 601 Walnut Street, Petaluma, who died Tuesday after a short illness, was held today at the Parent Funeral Home, Petaluma. Burial was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

A native of Santa Cruz, he lived in Fort Bragg before moving to Petaluma in 1934. Ryder was employed by the Petaluma Co-operative Creamery for many years until his retirement in 1967.

He was a member of Petaluma Lodge No. 180, Free and Accepted Mason, and the Petaluma High 12 Club.

Ryder is survived by his wife, Helen I.; a daughter, Nancy L. Ryder of Petaluma; a son, Russell L. Ryder of San Jose; a brother, Edward A. Ryder of Justice, Stanislaus County, and a sister, Mrs. Ruby Wilson of Lemoore, Kings County.

CREEK SCENE — This is the normally placid scene today along Sespe Creek near Ojai. Yesterday six boys and four men were swept from a bulldozer to apparent death. The bulldozer stalled after a cloudburst. (AP Wirephoto)

ONE SURVIVOR

Five Found Dead In Swollen Creek, Five More Are Missing

OJAI (AP) — Along the debris-choked banks of Sespe Creek, the clearing sky disclosed a young boy's body ... then the bodies of two more ... then the lifeless forms of a sheriff's deputy and a forest ranger. It was feared five more would be found dead today.

These were the last part of six young hikers, their adult leader and three men who tried tragically to rescue them from the rain-flooded area.

A survivor of the group, Scott Eckersley, 28, told authorities that he was washed ashore after a bulldozer stalled as they had attempted to cross the swift stream late Monday.

Elsewhere, as skies dried over California, heavy property and crop damage was counted. Southern California's storm damage was estimated at $3 million.

There were 47 storm-related deaths.

The storm turbulence was blamed for light plane crash in which three Texans died on a mountainside near Banning.

At least 29 traffic deaths in southern California were caused by the storm, authorities said.

In the Sespe Creek tragedies, Eckersley said:

"We all knew it was more or less the end.

"The boys were absolutely beautiful. No screaming. No hysteria. Only calm acceptance of the fact of what was to follow.

We all prayed, even the youngsters.

"One by one, someone would call out he couldn't hang on any longer. The water in a cloudburst rose so fast it stalled the bulldozer in the middle of the river. It was quickly up to our necks.

"There was no time to talk about how to get to the bank. We all began to get numb and slip away.

"The Navy petty officer was the first to go. He went quickly.

"Then the kids went one by one and their leader.

"Soon only two of us were left, a deputy sheriff and I. He was washed by a heavy swell on top of me. I held on to him but lost hold and we both went in.

"I went under several times and I don't remember much after that.

"When I came to, I was lying in a pool. I crawled up the bank into some thick brush, dug a hole in the mud, squeezed inside and covered myself to keep warm."

Six Blazes Close Eastern High School

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen fought six separate blazes in Poughkeepsie High School early today, closing the 1,500-student school for the day. Police termed the fires arson.

Firefighters raced to the two-story, concrete and stone structure shortly before 5 a.m. Smoke and water damage was termed considerable in the auditorium, many classrooms and storage closets. A number of windows were smashed.

Interstate Rail Freight Rates Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission continued and broadened today railroad freight rate increases ranging from 3 to 10 per cent.

The commission said the increases will bring an estimated $400 million a year to railroads engaged in interstate operations.

"The ICC authorized last Nov. 26 an interim freight rate hike for all commodities except grain, iron, steel scrap and pig iron. The interim increases were made permanent today.

But today's ruling adds the exempted commodities to the increase schedule and permits a 5 per cent hike in hauling charges for pig iron, iron and steel scrap.

The ruling also authorizes increases ranging from 5 to 7 per cent for grain and grain products except in the Western states where rates may not rise above schedules approved last June 23.

Authorization for rate hikes for the previously exempted commodities is effective in five days.

Chlorine Contract To Sacramento Firm

San Rafael Sanitation District directors yesterday awarded Continental Chemical Co. of Sacramento, lowest of three bidders, a contract for a year's supply of chlorine at $8,005.

Directors rejected two bids for installing new pumps at the West Railroad Avenue and San Pedro stations because they were too high. The job was estimated at $20,000 and the bids came in two weeks ago at $31,183 from Cimino Electric Co. and $34,305 from Neil T. Burton of Kentfield.

Police Brutality Damages Sought

OAKLAND (UPI) — Personal injury suits charging police brutality during Berkeley student disorders last June were filed yesterday in Superior Court. The six plaintiffs are seeking $552,000 in damages.

Berkeley attorney Demitrios Agretelis charged in the suits out provocation" struck his clients during demonstrations along Telegraph Avenue.

The cities of Berkeley and Oakland, Alameda County and the State of California, all of whom contributed police forces to quell the disturbances, were named as defendants.

Jet's Tail Section Located In Pacific

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A research submarine crew has identified a piece of wreckage in the Pacific Ocean as the tail section of a Scandinavian jetliner that crashed Jan. 13 but reported finding no bodies in it.

Spokesmen for the National Transportation Safety Board and Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., owner of the submarine Deep Quest, said early today that the section definitely was from a Scandinavian Airlines System DC8 that crashed six miles offshore on a landing approach to International Airport.

"The section found did not include an area for passengers," a spokesman said. "Still missing is a 40-foot section of fuselage between the wings and tail section."

The spokesman said that the submarine crew "could peer inside the section for a ways" but that no one would have been riding in that section of the tail.

Capt. Hans Fugl-Svendsen, manager of flight procedures for SAS, accompanied the submarine crew on the 7½-hour voyage Wednesday.

"There is no longer any doubt the section is from the liner," Fugl-Svendsen said.

The sub crew located the wreckage Monday but was forced to leave it in 325 feet of water without making positive identification when rough seas developed.

The submarine spent about four hours at the submerged wreckage, a spokesman said.

A section of flooring with three seats attached was found on the ocean floor nearby.

A NTSB spokesman said the section located and identified Wednesday contains the flight recorder which should shed light on the cause of the crash.

The sub crew attempted to pick up the wreckage with a giant mechanical claw, the spokesman continued, but it only tore through the aluminum skin.

Officials of the NTSB, Lockheed and SAS are to meet to discuss whether to continue salvage attempts.

The bodies of 11 persons presumed dead are still missing in the crash. Four bodies have been recovered.

Five nights after the SAS liner went into the sea a United Air Lines flight to Denver crashed one and one-half miles away, killing all 38 persons.

Microscopes Help Doctors In Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cancer of the larynx may become 100 per cent curable with the implementation of new developments in microscopic surgery, according to an Australian surgeon.

Dr. John Tonking of St. Vincent's Hospital in Sydney told a news conference yesterday that high magnification instruments — developed by Dr. Oscar Kleinsasser of Cologne, West Germany and put into use about 18 months ago — now permit doctors to operate on the previously "untouchable" condition.

Until the microscopes' development, Tonkin said, surgeons tried to avoid operating on keratosis, a condition signifying an early stage of cancer, because the delicacy of throat membranes could easily allow the larynx to be damaged.

Tonkin, a speaker at the five-day annual meeting of the Research Study Club, an organization of eye, ear, nose and throat physicians, said the primary nonsurgery method of handling keratosis, thickening of the membrane around the vocal cords is getting the patient to stop smoking.

"I have never seen a case of cancer of the larynx who is not a smoker," he told newsmen.

Innocent Plea In Tampering

Jerold Carver Carlock, 40, of Crockett, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge that he jimmied a car door lock in Muir Woods on Jan. 1.

A preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 20 in Marin Municipal Court.

King Memorial Program Slated By Youngsters

Students of Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera will present a music and narrative program honoring the late Dr. Martin Luther King at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the school, 5221 Paradise Drive.

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students will speak Dr. King's words over live and recorded music.

Directories To Cost $8,481

Directories and signboards in the new Hall of Justice at the Civic Center will cost $8,481.

Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday contracted with Display Letter Mart of San Francisco to provide three large directories in the lobby area and a half dozen smaller directories in the upper floors for that amount.

The supervisors also awarded a $2,935 contract to John Graves of Petaluma to clean out the Civic Center lagoon, and a $4,525 contract with E. H. Duncan of San Anselmo to do cabinet work in the sheriff's office in the Hall of Justice.

Funds Sought To Continue Head Start

Marin County Economic Opportunity Council last night approved an application for $123,271 in federal funds to continue the Head Start program for 1969-70.

Joseph Denhart, director of Head Start and children's center programs for the county, explained the need for a supplementary budget of $29,005, but the EOC board postponed action on it.

The program is in danger of losing teachers and the supplementary budget would enable them to have a 5 per cent pay increase and expand their working time from eight and one-half to 10 months, Denhart explained.

SUMMER PLANS

Also approved was an application for $23,347 to conduct a 1969 summer Head Start program.

There were about 50 persons in the audience during the Head Start program discussion, many of them parents of children in the program and some staff members.

The program for 1969-70 incorporates a New Careers component which would provide formal training as well as on-the-job training for participants, Denhart explained.

Teaching assistants, for example, would be paid not only for their working time, but also for their time attending school. "It would get rid of the dead end for teaching assistants," he noted.

AREA PROGRAM

The EOC board also voted to have Marin County affiliate with Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond, San Francisco and San Mateo, in application for recognition as a community program area.

Victor H. Cary, executive director, said if the community program area is approved by regional manpower administrators, Marin could get funds for manpower training programs.

"We have never received any," said Cary, "all we have is the Neighborhood Youth Corps." That program is run by the County of Marin.

If the program is approved, Marin would have access to the East Bay Skills Center, Cary noted.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni, who joined the board last night, abstained on the Head Start and community program area vote because he wasn't acquainted with the matters.

Plea Of Innocent

To Laundry Burglary

Harry C. Hostetter, 33, of San Anselmo, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of burglarizing a coin laundry in San Rafael and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 25 in Marin Municipal Court.

Economic Opportunity Council Revises Setup

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, an unwieldy 36-member group, voted last night to streamline its operation by switching to a committee system.

Thus, the EOC, formed in 1966 and expanded last summer, will have an organizational face-lift.

The new plan was the outgrowth of a three-day training conference at White's Retreat in Mill Valley, Jan. 10-12, attended by 20 board members.

Rather than continue to operate as a committee as a whole, the EOC will have five major committees, which will meet separately, and make recommendations to the full board.

The five major committees will be planning and program, 11 members; outside resources, finance, public relations and planning and program, five members each.

Members of the five major committees will be selected by a three-member committee elected last night: Mrs. Adelaide Wilson, Fairfax councilman, representing the public sector; Dr. Festus Adebajo, representing the private sector, and Mrs. Eloise Brown of Marin City, representing the poor.

The EOC also will have an executive committee consisting of the board chairman, board vice chairman and chairmen of the five major committees.

As planned the board will meet once a month, on the second Wednesday, instead of twice a month, its past schedule. The committees will meet once a month, possibly the fourth Wednesday.

Four new members joined the board last night: Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., representing the Marin County Board of Supervisors; Mrs. Ruth Green, of the Novato Head Start Child Care Parents; Alvin Burkard, Venetia Oaks Senior Citizens, and Richard Mermin, Tiburon's representative succeeding Branwell T. Fanning.

Robert C. Bundy, representing the city of Larkspur, submitted his resignation after the meeting.

Broker's Course To Be Offered

A new course to instruct beginning salesmen in real estate finance and to prepare a student for a broker's examination will start with the spring semester at College of Marin Feb. 12.

The credit class, to cover financial transactions in savings and loan businesses and mortgage brokering, will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays in the Communications Building. Instructor will be John S. Russell, Kentfield real estate and insurance broker.

Other real estate courses in the spring semester curriculum are property insurance, real estate principles, and real estate practice.

various locations throughout Marin.

Arrigoni emphasized that committee meetings, where members will be determining their recommendations, must be open to the public.

"There is no intention of excluding the public," said Dr. Adebajo.

Simmons said the training conference gave board members greater understanding of each other and more knowledge of their role as a council.

Roger Jones was acting chairman in the absence of Chairman Arthur L. Brown. Nine members were absent.

Because its next regular meeting date is on Lincoln's Birthday, the EOC adjourned until Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. at Room 206, Marin County Courthouse, San Rafael.

Landmark Is Darkened For Funds Drive

The lights on Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon will be turned off for the duration of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society's campaign to raise $18,000 for the purchase of two lots adjacent to the church, according to Carol Ericson, landmarks society executive director.

Mrs. Ericson said the society hopes the darkened church will serve as a reminder and incentive to Tiburon Peninsula residents to donate to the fund drive.

Thus far, $8,500 has been donated by 239 families toward the society's $18,000 goal. Campaign deadline is the end of February.

Half of the $72,500 price for the 1.5 acres of open space above the church will be contributed by the county, the cities of Belvedere and Tiburon and the landmarks society with the remainder coming as an open space grant from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Owners of the property have announced plans to construct 16 apartment units on the site.

The property, if purchased, will be named the Caroline S. Livermore Natural Preserve.

The first steamship to cross the Atlantic was the Savannah, skippered by Capt. Steven Rogers of New London, Conn.

Newton's Bail Appeal Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A request to free Black Panther Party founder Huey Newton on bail was denied without comment yesterday by the California Supreme Court.

Newton is serving a 2 to 15 year prison sentence for voluntary manslaughter in the killing of an Oakland policeman.

His conviction is being appealed by attorney Charles Garry on grounds that Newton did not get a fair trial.

John Paul Simmons poses with his bride, the former Dawn Pepita Langley Hall in Charleston, S.C. They were married there yesterday. The former Miss Hall changed her sex from male to female through a series of operations and says doctors have told her she has a 50-50 chance of having children. She gave her age as 31. Her husband, a Negro and her former steward, is 22. She wore a floor-length gown of candlelight lace. (AP Wirephoto)

Legislature Gets Road Fund Bills

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Two bills affecting some $800 million a year in highway funds have been introduced in the Legislature.

The more controversial of the two is a constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, to permit the use of state gasoline tax revenues for public transit. If his measure gets through the Legislature, considered unlikely this year, it would have to be approved by a vote of the people in the November 1970 general election.

Past forays on the gas tax by public transit advocates have been defeated easily by opposition from highway interests.

The other measure, authored by Sen. Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, would do away with the present formula for allocating highway funds between Northern California and the state's 13 southern counties.

The present formula gives the north 45 per cent, and the south 55 per cent of the funds. Carrell's measure would leave the decision up to the California Highway Commission, which has a majority of Southern Californians.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, said last month that he would introduce a bill to change the formula to give the south 60 per cent, which would deny the north about $40 million a year.

Marinite Hurt In Auto Crash

A Kentfield woman was admitted to Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital yesterday with injuries suffered in a two-car accident at Ely and Corona roads, north of Petaluma.

Kathryn Mary McNicholl, 22, of 10 Idlewood Road, was treated at Petaluma General Hospital for head injuries and transferred to the intensive care unit at the Santa Rosa hospital, where she was reported in poor condition today.

The California Highway Patrol said her car collided about 4:55 p.m. with one driven by Verne L. McNear, 48, of 1480 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Ex-CORE Chief Calls For Black Cohesiveness

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The black community must work to become a cohesive ethnic group, James Farmer, former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, told a University of Michigan audience yesterday.

"The most meaningful thrust in the black community is toward ethnic cohesiveness," Farmer said. "The black community must work toward becoming a viable, power-wielding ethnic entity."

Farmer spoke as a lecturer in a newly created U.M. graduate School of Business Administration course in black capitalism. His audience of about 150 was composed primarily of students in that course.

Retire Plans' Costs Sought

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors have asked for a cost comparison between Marin County and the state retirement systems before deciding which system to join, secretary Douglas DeLaFontaine reported.

The district's three employees now do not belong to any retirement system, DeLaFontaine said.

The board, meeting Tuesday, also heard that smoke bomb testing to detect leaks in sewer lines will begin this week.

The purchase of $89 in foul weather equipment was authorized, DeLaFontaine said.

THE MICHELIN X Steel Radial Tire

We admit we have been in short supply on this tire because of the tremendous demand. But we have a pretty good supply now, and we are dealing on them again.

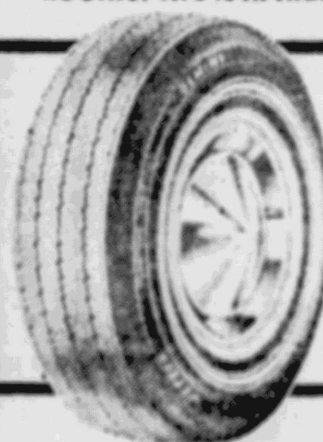

No other tire is in this tire class — some other lines of tires actually cost more, like U.S. Royal Masters - General Dual 90s - Vaguet, Goodyear Double Eagles and a few others that substitute successful performance with gimmick. The Michelin X Steel Radial tire puts them all to shame in every way — including THE COMFORT OF THE RIDE, which is what the competition seems to point out in a derogatory manner about the Michelin — I repeat so often just ask any one who has owned Michelin tires and you will get 100% good reports — AND — no other tire is in that class.

Legislator Asks Sacramento City, County To Aid Expo

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The city and county of Sacramento have been warned if they don't make a "substantial financial commitment" to the California Exposition the legislature may balk at providing additional state funds for the project.

Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, said Tuesday he doubted the legislature would be willing to approve more money for the financially troubled exposition without "significant involvement of the city and county."

He said that he would ask the legislature that no additional funds be invested in the exposition unless the city and county change their policy toward the show.

Johnson is chairman of the Assembly Government Organization Committee which launched an investigation of Cal Expo after it finished its initial season with a $1.5 million deficit. The state has spent $36 million so far to develop the exposition.

The lawmaker noted the Sacramento City Council recently reaffirmed its plan to build a community center in the downtown area rather than at the exposition site. He said Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post told his committee last month the city could save more than $6 million by locating the center at the site.

"In view of these facts I cannot understand how the city could go ahead with the community center project without a careful re-evaluation," Johnson said.

He said the state "cannot afford to continue isolated, uncoordinated developments like Cal Expo which overlook opportunities for substantial savings and mutual community benefits."

Consumnes River Project Weighed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A feasibility report has found found engineering and economic reasons for three dams and reservoirs as the first stage of a proposed multi-purpose Consumnes River Division of the Central Valley Project in California, the Interior Department says.

The initial phase, yesterday's announcement said, could provide about 45,000 acre-feet of water a year to irrigate 34,749 acres as well as meet municipal, industrial, recreational and wildlife needs.

The river rises in the Sierra Nevada and empties into the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta south of Sacramento. The cost of the division portion of the project, the department said, is estimated at more than $176 million.

Three Plead In Marijuana Growing

Three Fairfax men pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of possessing marijuana and growing a marijuana plant in their home.

Preliminary hearing was set in Marin Municipal Court for Feb. 25 for John Howard Barrett, 28, Barry Lowell Bastian, 25, and William Warren Leidenhath, 22, all of 79 Live Oak Avenue.

Registration Remains Open

Registrations are still being accepted for some classes in the winter recreation program of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department. Director Andrew J. Snyder Jr. reported.

Classes with openings include beginning folk guitar, offered from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays; adult yoga, 10 to 11 a.m. Mondays; bonsai, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays; and beginning and intermediate folk dance, 8 to 10 p.m. Thursdays.

The classes are held in the city recreation center, Second and Brooks streets.

Fatal Dose Of Drug Discovered In Body

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Toxicology tests have shown that Mrs. Gloria Giannis, 42, died from an overdose of drugs while in the care of Mrs. Vera Mae Walsh of Santa Rosa, a practical nurse in Fairfax.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said tests indicated Mrs. Giannis had taken a lethal dose of glutethimide, which he described as a sedative and a hypnotic drug. He said tests showed she had taken three times the amount of the drug that would bring on a coma.

Mrs. Giannis, who died Jan. 5, was found in Mrs. Walsh's apartment on Jan. 10 wrapped in a sheet and a blanket and tied with a thick cord.

Sonoma County Dist. Atty. Kiernan Hyland said his office is conferring with Santa Rosa Police Chief Melvin Flohr on what charge is might be pressed. He indicated it would be at least a week before any action.

Mrs. Walsh is being held in Sonoma County Jail on a parole violation and charges of grand theft. She is accused of taking a diamond ring and glassware from the home of her Fairfax employers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Grimm of 35 San Gabriel Drive.

State Wants Fair At Civic Center

The 1970 Marin Art and Garden Fair should be held at the Civic Center fairgrounds, not in Ross, the top state fair official told the Fair-Marine board last night at Civic Center.

Ray Harrington, chief of the state Division of Fairs and Expositions, said he is opposed to the split-fair idea — holding the garden fair in Ross and the performing and visual arts fair at the new fairgrounds site.

Harrington also said he believed that, under state law governing fairs and expositions, a split fair at Ross after the Veterans Memorial Auditorium opened would be illegal, according to Harold Stockstad, Fair-Marine president. He did not say what specific law would be violated.

The Veterans Memorial Auditorium is scheduled to open late this year.

Fair-Marine directors discussed budget appropriations for this year and decided to meet again at 8 p.m. Monday at Civic Center.

Driver Crashes, Accused Of Dope

Shawn D. Baggett, 19, of Hanford, Kings County, was booked into Marin County Jail early today on suspicion of driving under the influence of narcotics after his car sideswiped two parked cars in Kentfield. Larkspur police said.

Police said they saw Baggett's car swerve over the center line on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur at 3:14 a.m., and followed him to Kent Avenue in Kentfield where his car hit cars belonging to Alvin Saffholm of 340 Kent Avenue and Vito Maniscalco of New York City. Police said Baggett told them

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

If At First You Don't Succeed, Try, Try Again

Mayor C. Paul Bettini has proposed that San Rafael try again to change its charter to make four positions appointive that are now elective.

Since the same proposal was roundly defeated by the voters in 1967, it might appear the mayor is whistling into the wind. However, he believes that the voters might approve changing the status of some of the positions, if not all. Last time, they were all lumped together; it was, like the state constitution revision rejected last November, a case of "all or nothing." San Rafael voters preferred nothing.

THIS TIME, Mayor Bettini proposes four separate charter amendments on the April 15 ballot, one for each of the four positions.

The four are police chief, city attorney, city clerk, and city treasurer. Passage of a charter change affecting any of them would make no difference until 1971, since the terms of all four incumbents extend until then.

Changing the police chief and city attorney positions from elective to appointive has been rejected by the voters twice in recent years.

THE FIRST TIME was in the special congressional election of Jan. 22, 1963. The city council put on the ballot for that election two proposed charter changes, one for police chief and one for city attorney.

Having done this, however, no member of the council made the slightest move to obtain passage of the changes. The mayor and councilmen even refused to appear publicly or on Radio KTIM to discuss them.

Opponents were not so reticent. As the Citizens Committee Opposed to Charter Change, they mounted an intensive campaign for "no" votes against both changes.

With a heavy "no vote" campaign and no "yes vote" campaign at all, the result was overwhelming defeat for making the positions appointive — in spite of the fact that, in the case of the city attorney, A. E. Bagshaw declaring in announcing his retirement that he believed it should be appointive. The vote on changing police chief to appointment was 4,886 "no" to 2,162 "yes"; on city attorney, 4,893 "no" to 2,127 "yes."

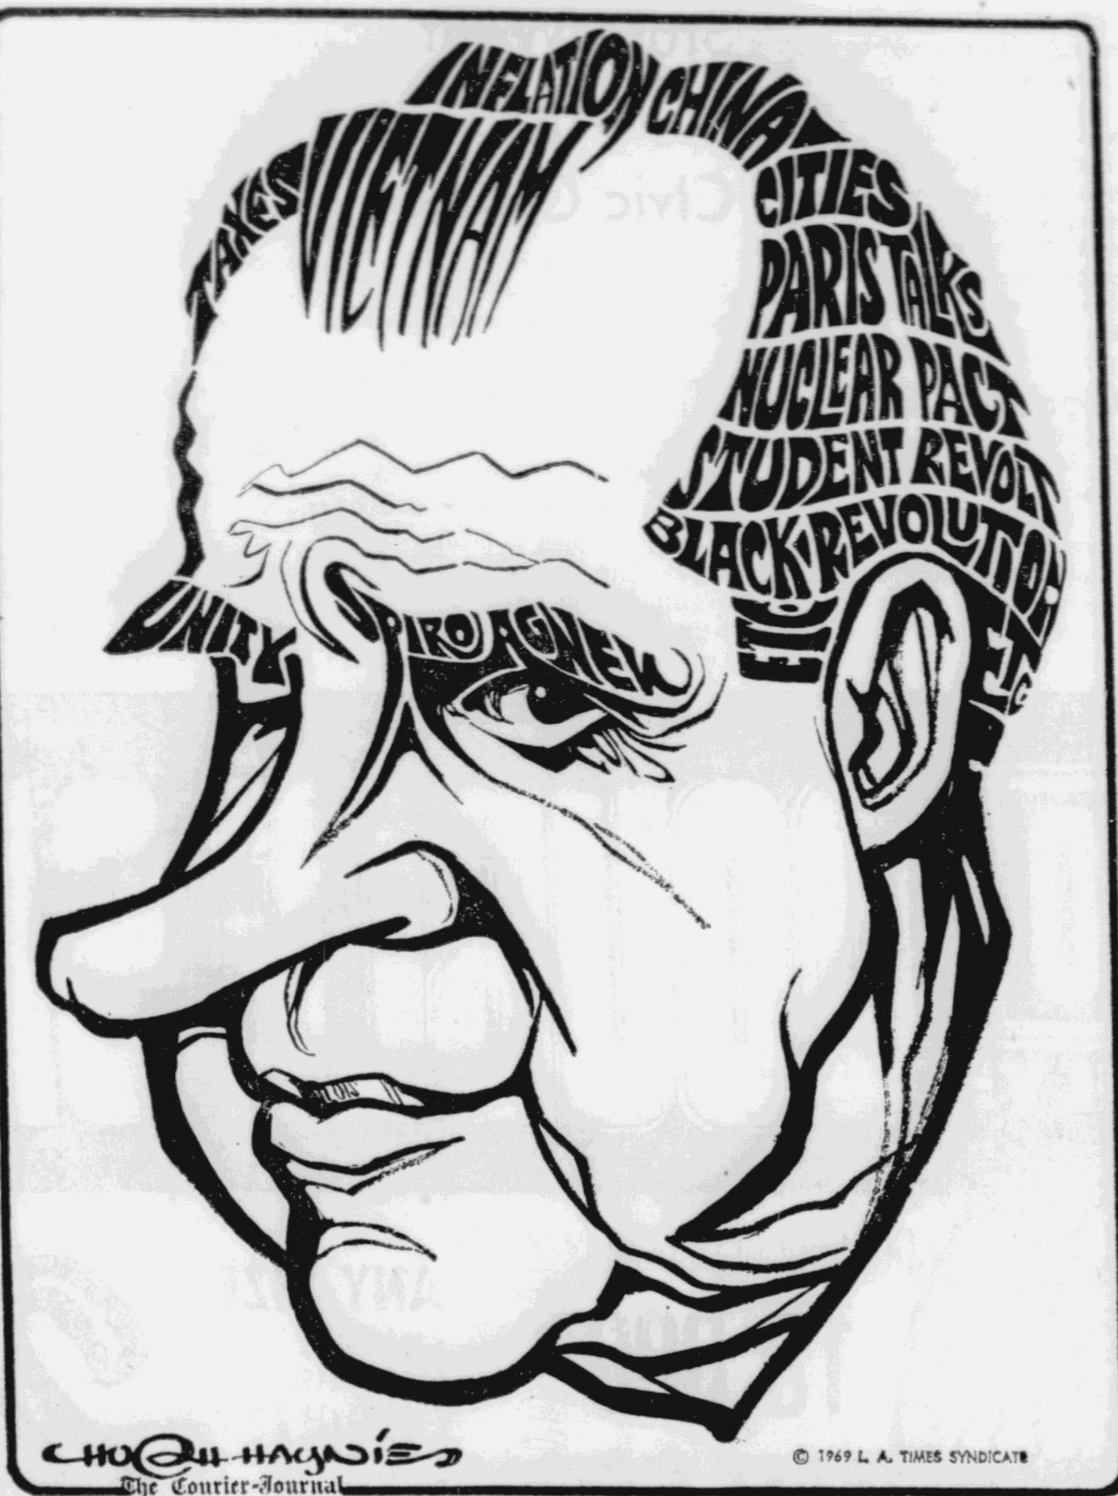

Leaders of the citizen committee campaign to defeat the measures were C. Paul Bettini, then a member of the board of education, and Thomas R. O'Toole, then as now a city planning commissioner.

In the charter revision of 1967, the positions of police chief, city attorney, clerk and treasurer were lumped together in one proposition, all to be made appointive. This lost nearly as decisively: 4,163 "no" to 1,706 "yes."

THERE ARE VERY COGENT arguments for changing the police chief position to appointment. There are good arguments on both sides as to the other three positions.

It is significant that Mayor Bettini, who six years ago led a fight to keep police chief and attorney elective, now is advocating that both be made appointive — and unlike the mayor and councilmen of six years ago, is ready to take the stump to urge the change.

If these propositions are put on the April 15 ballot, as the council has indicated they will be, each of them should be considered on its own merits. There should be no blanket "vote yes" or "vote no" approach. For each of the four positions is in a different category.

"Good Morning, Mr. President! And What's On Your Mind Today?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Few Are Willing To Jeopardize Jobs

The situation at San Francisco State College is distressing, to say the least but your editorial of Jan. 9 was appalling, as Dr. Daniel Knapp's letter so clearly indicated.

As a full-time faculty member since 1956, I have witnessed a number of changes in organization and policy — many of which have been to the good of higher education. It is important to note, however, that what has been happening at San Francisco State College represents a microcosm of our entire nation.

We have in this country thousands of people who are justifiably unhappy with their economic, educational and living conditions. These include farmers, nurses, students and, of course, college professors.

But, while many people are dissatisfied with prevailing political and fiscal attitudes, very few are willing to place their job or family in jeopardy. Those of us who are willing, are doing so because we feel it is essential to preserve an opportunity to improve the living conditions and the educational possibilities for all, and perhaps most importantly, the chance to maintain a sense of integrity with respect to these issues.

Dr. Daniel Knapp should be lauded for reporting how it really is, and it is to your credit that you published his letter.

Cartoon Should Be Put On Billboards

Congratulations for your editorial page cartoon depicting the demolition of the university.

Would that this could be shown on outdoor billboards from coast to coast so the decent, thinking, hard-working citizen would know they have the backing of the majority. And that the methods used by the radical, "free riding" leeches have no place in a free society. Carlyle put it well when he wrote, "Anarchy is the choking, sweltering, deadly, and killing rule of no rule; the consecration of cupidity and braying of folly and dim stupidity and baseness."

Olompali Adobe Not Built In '76

In the photo caption on page 17 of the Jan. 15 J., there is reference to an adobe having been built in Olompali in 1776. A charming tale but historically unfounded. At least I have found a primary source having to do with Marin County which makes mention to this event.

Of course, it does not appear in the 1775 log of the San Carlos, first Spanish ship to enter S.R. Bay. Yet the commander of this vessel, at the time, Juan Manuel de Ayala, has been linked with the event. There is no indication of this adobe or its construction in Palou's "Historical Memoirs of New California." Yet these records are a primary source of reference regarding Quiro's 1776 exploration of San Pablo Bay and Petaluma Creek. No mention of such a structure is made in Lieutenant Goycochea's detailed journal, although he led an exploration through this area in 1783. An officer in the Spanish army would not have overlooked the existence of an adobe building in the midst of an untracked wilderness. Likewise, the journal of the 1821 Arguello expedition, which even mentions Olompali by name, offers no indication that a building stood in the area. In 1824 a party of Russians traveled from Mission San Rafael to Fort Ross along a trail that would have taken them directly past Olompali. But the detailed description of this journey, contained in Kotzebue's "A New Voyage 'Round the World'" does not contain reference to any buildings between the mission and the fort.

An examination of maps of the northern Bay Area of the late 18th Century reveals no structures. Ayala's 1775 map of San Francisco Bay predates any construction. The 1779 Camacho and the 1789 Dalrymple maps of the Port of San Francisco indicate the Presidio and Mission of San Francisco, nothing else.

The very earliest indication of a structure in the Olompali area which I have been able to find appears in Duflo de Mofras map of 1839. It shows a structure labeled "Rancho del Indio" near the area which was to become the site of the James Black's Adobe. However, Duflo's Rancho is on the opposite side of the road.

As I said, it's a charming tale. But the claim that an adobe was built in Marin County in 1776 needs a firm historical foundation before it will stand.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Uncle Henry came home from seeing his favorite nephew off on the United States with his hair matted and his clothes hopelessly disarranged. "There was a terrible crush at the dock," he explained. "Everybody pushing and shoving! Suddenly they started yelling, 'Man overboard.' I looked around — and my God, it was me!"

Earl Warren recalls the time years ago when he was running for district attorney in California and was invited to present his views with all the other candidates at a special meeting. The candidates were called upon alphabetically, unfortunately, and as soon as they had made their pitch, not only they but their adherents vacated the premises just as fast as their little feet could carry them. By the time they got around to Earl Warren there was just one man left in the audience, and he explained hastily, "My name is Young, Mr. Warren, and they invited me here in error. I'm running for coroner!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Built-In System Leaves Few Options Available To Nixon

WASHINGTON — The bouquets have passed back and forth over the smooth transition of power from one administration to another in an atmosphere of sweetest harmony. It has been a long love-in since the battle cries of the campaign were stilled on Nov. 5.

Yet looked at closely, the fact is that the power structure in Washington will be little changed.

Both men and events out of the past present the new president with the narrowest avenue to new policies. Because he is the first incoming president since Zachary Taylor in 1848 to fail to bring in with him majorities of his own party in Senate and House, Nixon confronts the Democratic chairmen, most of them southerners, who are the real powers in Congress.

VIRTUALLY ALL the members of his cabinet and sub-cabinet come out of what in convenient shorthand can be labeled the Establishment. As bankers, lawyers and contractors they have been spokesmen for or participants in the upper levels of private power. However hard he may have tried to recruit from the foundations, the universities and other areas of knowledge and expertise, with few exceptions the Nixon men have been brokers in the big power game.

They have at least a family resemblance to conspicuous figures in the outgoing administration. Among the alienated young—not by any means merely the hippies and yuppies — this fraternity of power seeming to override political change is the source of disillusion and embitterment. The familiar faces come up with computerized authority. The system, a word the young use with scorn, provides little room for broad and meaningful change.

AT LEAST FIVE committee chairmen of Capitol Hill will exercise an authority rivalling that of the new President. He will have to treat with them as chieftains of a tribe that may or may not prove friendly once the lines of policy are defined. If their authority is largely negative and their intentions nonetheless real.

The biggest chief is Richard B. Russell of Winder, Ga., who has served in the Senate since 1933. The power he wields in the new Congress is of an order only slightly less than that of the new president. Formerly chairman of the Armed Services Committee, he has now taken the chairmanship of appropriations, with its life-or-death veto over money bills. He keeps his place on armed services, where his stature gives him a strong voice on military matters. At the heart of the club within a club dominating the Senate, Russell was elected president pro tempore, which puts him in line — remotely under the 25th Amendment to the Constitution — to the presidency.

Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett, Ark., in the House since 1939, is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee with authority of broad scope over taxes and tariffs. If Nixon hopes to get approval for tax subsidization to business to rebuild slums, he will have to overcome Mills' expressed opposition to such subsidies. On the Senate side, Russell B. Long of Louisiana is Mills' counterpart on taxes. Long can prove a stout obstacle to the restraints on the economy Nixon feels are necessary.

IN AREAS VITAL to the success or failure of the Nixon administration, policy has been circumscribed in such a way as to make change difficult if not impossible. The most conspicuous example is in the attempt to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on control and reduction of missiles, with the imminent threat of another round in the nuclear arms race.

Because it happened during the campaign, the full significance of the debate in the Senate over deployment of anti-ballistic missiles was overlooked. In one of the rare acts of statesmanship in the 90th Congress, Sen. John Sherman Cooper eloquently argued for delay not in research and development but in starting to put ABMs in place. He noted that scientific advisers to the last five presidents had recommended against a system that was futile and probably obsolete before it was installed.

The vote rejecting the Cooper amendment was 45 to 25. The door was slammed on a brief standstill in the arms race.

Mexico Bringing Pressure To Halt Plane Hijacks

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Mexico is putting pressure on Castro Cuba to discourage would-be hijackers of scheduled airliners.

The Mexicans have asked the Cubans to return two accused airplane hijackers to face prosecution in Mexico. The Mexicans believe that stiff jail sentences of up to 40 years might deter further such action by those wishing for one reason or another to escape to Havana.

MEXICO is the one Latin American nation still having diplomatic relations with Communist Cuba and an extradition treaty between the two countries going back to 1925 still is considered valid.

The Mexicans thus are taking over a leading role in bringing to a halt a situation which also has caused mounting concern among major U.S. airlines, notably those flying to Miami or other Florida points less than 100 miles from Havana.

Knut Hammariskjold, director-general of the more than 100 airline International air transport association, called on the United Nations to declare hijacking comparable to piracy and genocide.

Other representations have been made to the U.S. State Department.

SO FAR the Mexican request to Cuba has met only silence. Mexico is said to run second only to the United States in the numbers of airplanes hijacked to Havana.

Strong pressures are being brought on the Mexican government by the Mexican Pilots union. The pilots say they are afraid that sooner or later there is going to be violence aboard a hijacked plane and their lives are in danger.

President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz also is reported deeply interested in calling a halt to the hijackings.

MEXICO repeatedly has made it clear it has little sympathy with the Castro regime.

But it has kept open the line to Havana for several reasons. Mexican tradition views breaking of diplomatic relations as an unwarranted interference in the internal affairs of another sovereign nation. Maintenance of relations with the Cuban Communists also is used as a sop to Mexico's own leftists.

It also keeps a channel open for non-Communist nations, such as obtaining the release of American citizens held prisoner in Cuba in which Mexico played a prominent role a year ago.

Mexico's unique position makes it possible also for the Mexicans to apply certain pressures on the Cubans.

It could create problems for travelers from Cuba or leaving for Cuba, for Cuban ships loading to Mexican ports, for the Cuban government airline flights to Mexico City, for Cuba's use of Mexico City as a way station for trainee subversives.

How 'Property Tax Relief' Proves Hoax On Taxpayer

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California's so-called "property tax relief" program, adopted by the 1968 Legislature, constituted one of the most stupendous hoaxes ever dished out by that body to its constituents.

It will be recalled that the Legislature, in a frenzied move to forestall passage of the Watson Amendment, which would have placed a limit on property taxes, passed its own version of property tax relief along toward the close of the session.

The Legislature's so-called relief plan, which was ratified by the people at last November's election, provided that those who own and occupy property were to get a refund of $70 from taxes assessed last year, and from now on in, a $750 exemption from future assessments.

This plan will be carried out by the various counties, but here comes the hitch.

THE PROPERTY OWNER, at least in Sacramento County and probably in a lot more counties, is scheduled to take the $70 and give most of it back to local government in the form of increased property taxes.

So actually, the property-owner gets little or no relief. He is merely an intermediary in the process of getting back a few paltry dollars, paying state and federal income tax on the refund, provided he deducted the tax payment, paying postage to send in his claim, and eventually winding up with no relief at all, or at least no more than coffee and doughnuts.

What is happening is that local government gets not only a payment from the state for the taxes it "loses" by making the refunds, but also is adding about the same amount to this year's taxes. And the taxpayer generally is paying the amount to the state which the state in turn gives back to local government to make up its losses. Thus the taxpayer is getting socked twice instead of receiving any of the long-hoped for relief.

HERE'S HOW it works, at least in the case of this writer: Last week, we received a notice from the Sacramento County assessor to file a claim for the $70 tax refund. Only a day passed before another notice was received from the bank, advising that the FHA payment is being increased $5 per month, or $60 per year to pay local taxes! All of which makes the "tax relief" amount to $10 per year, which will dwindle to virtually nothing when income tax is paid on the $70, and costs of collecting the $10 are figured.

The situation shows conclusively that the so-called "tax relief" plan is nothing more than so much bologna dished out by politicians to con an unsuspecting public into belief that it is getting some consideration from the people it supports and elects to public office, presumably to work in the best interests of the public.

As a matter of fact, the slogan seems to have changed from "the public be damned" to "the public be robbed" with the advice and consent of all levels of government.

Hub City Puzzle: How To Help Self But Not Help Others

San Anselmo is still in a bind: It needs a bigger road from the Hub to Fairfax, but it's afraid that building one will encourage its use by outsiders traveling to West Marin.

And if there's one thing the city doesn't want, it's to help any project that will make San Anselmo a speedway link in such a road.

A year ago its city council protested long and firmly against any suggestion that a Highway 17 extension to the coast cross its borders. It called for the elimination of Highway 17 from the state freeway system.

And lest there be any mistake, the council added that it was against any such road, even a scenic one, going through San Anselmo without the council's consent.

STILL, AS LATE as two weeks ago, Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell — backed by many reports by traffic consultant firms — declared at least four lanes on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard plus the two lanes of Center Boulevard will be needed just to handle local traffic.

If motorists choose to use the routes for longer-range traveling, that is unavoidable, added Leitzell. He said the six or more lanes undoubtedly would only temporarily relieve the need for a by-pass road to West Marin — such as the proposed Highway 17 extension.

POSSIBILITY of increasing the width of Drake Boulevard hasn't brought nearly so much resistance as did the suggestion of increasing the capacity of Center Boulevard. Just a rumor that the planning commission at its Jan. 9 meeting was going to reconsider the widening of that street brought out a passel of homeowners. The residents gave every indication that they are willing to renew with vigor the protests they presented during July public hearings.

The residents, mostly from the Yolanda Drive area adjacent to Center Boulevard, in those hearings opposed the Center Boulevard widening because it would take part of their back yards. They also have said they saw no reason for San Anselmo to pay for a better street for people to drive through the city.

One woman expressed a fear that San Anselmo would become a system of concrete highways with "the heart and the soul of the town" gone.

ON DEC. 10 the council unanimously reaffirmed that it favors widening of Drake from the Hub to Fairfax city limits. Then, somewhat surprisingly, it referred the matter back to the planning commission to obtain a more up-to-date feeling. Maybe the people had changed their minds, a councilman said.

They hadn't. At least, the Yolanda Drive residents hadn't. A yelling match occurred at the onset between two commissioners and a resident who wanted to be sure that reconsideration wasn't being given to widening Center Boulevard.

The commission probed until nearly midnight. Last week, it recommended rejection of a proposed widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard without parking and with inadequate screening for adjacent homes. It said the council should fix the ultimate maximum number of traffic lanes it is willing to build. It did not recommend a plan to follow.

The council adopted the suggestion of not using the four-lane project without parking. Then, seemingly with a sigh, councilmen decided to ask County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker and his staff to have an over-all look at the corridor picture and come to a future public hearing with suggestions.

ART BUCHWALD

What Came With 4-Year-Lease To House In Washington

WASHINGTON—When President Richard Nixon and his wife Pat came back from the swearing-in ceremonies at the capitol they found a note from Mr. Johnson pinned on the front door of the White House.

It read:

Dear Dick and Pat, The key is under the doormat and you can have all the food that's left in the ice box. We've tried to leave the place as spick and span as possible, but little Lyn was unable to find several of his toys. If you find a brown teddy bear with one eye, would you mail it to us care of the LBJ Ranch, Johnson City, Texas?

The dogs have chewed up the rug on the last day and we didn't have time to repair it, so if you folks want to have it fixed, you can send the bill to us.

THE FUSE BOX is in the cellar behind the furnace. The electric bills are outrageous, so watch the help and see that they turn out all the lights.

Garbage goes out Friday, trash on Monday, but don't mix the two or there is a $25 fine. For example, don't throw out your budget messages with your press secretary's briefing transcripts.

The appliances are all in pretty good shape, though it gets hot in the kitchen every once in a while. You can blame Harry Truman for that. He knew about the problem, but every time someone wanted to do something about it, he said, "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen."

LADY BIRD's left a list of handymen to call if you need anything repaired. If you call the plumber and tell him you're the President of the United States, he'll be over within 48 hours. The electrician might take a little longer, but he lives in Bethesda, Md., and usually doesn't make house calls.

Structurally, I think you'll find the building itself in fairly good condition, with one exception. When we first moved in, we found hordes of newspapermen coming out of the walls of the west wing of the White House. We called the exterminators and they did everything — they sprayed them, laid out poison bait for them, set mouse traps, and they even plugged up all the leaks and holes. But the newspapermen just kept multiplying.

In the last year Lady Bird and I decided to ignore them, and I'd advise you to do the same. Trying to get rid of them seems to do more damage to the house than letting them gnaw on the foundations of your administration.

THE POOL should be backwashed twice a week. Marvin Watson used to do it for me before I made him postmaster general. If you don't want to do it yourself, you can probably get Wally Hickel to do it for you. After all, he owes you a favor.

You don't have too many neighbors around, but we solved the problem by inviting people over for lunch and dinner. The only time we ran into trouble is when we invited a bunch of artists and writers over to the house and they started passing around a petition saying they only came to eat with us to show their contempt for what we were doing in Vietnam. It kind of hurt to see them eat my groceries.

There are a bunch of trees and bushes in the garage that Lady Bird never did get a chance to plant and she said Pat could have them. She also left the silver shovel for Pat.

I GUESS that's pretty much it. I think you'll like the house. It has a je ne sais quoi quality to it that's hard to explain.

The only advice I have is don't get too attached to the place. The landlords are pretty fickle people, and no matter what you do for them, if they take a dislike to you they'll kick you out when your four-year lease is up.

Sincerely,
Lyndon

Board Approves Proxy Voting

The bylaws of the Lynwood Park Improvement Association have been changed by adding proxy voting, according to Secretary Marilyn Haskell.

The change now makes it possible for members of the organization still to vote if they cannot attend the meetings, she said.

The board, meeting Tuesday, called a special meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 5, at the Lynwood School to nominate new officers. Election will be at the general meeting on March 18, according to Mrs. Haskell.

The board voted to join the North Marin Federation of Homeowners Associations, she reported.

Girls Cited On Marijuana Probe

Two Sir Francis Drake High School students have been cited to the Marin County Juvenile Probation office for investigation of marijuana possession at school, San Anselmo police said. School authorities reported that the girls, both 17, had about two ounces of what appeared to be marijuana in their possession at 1:50 p.m. Tuesday. The girls were released to their parents.

Phoenix Lake Too Full For Reconstruction

Phoenix Lake, filling rapidly with winter rains after being empty all summer for dam reconstruction, may have to be drained again.

"It will be a little embarrassing," William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District said yesterday as he reported the problem to the board.

Completion of the $91,225 project, scheduled for last fall, has been repeatedly thwarted by nondelivery of parts.

NO CANOEING

Now, Seeger said, the lake has filled to a point where it may be impossible to install the controls without draining it.

The district had hoped to fill the lake this winter.

Responding to a spectator's question on when the lake would be open for canoeing, Seeger said, "There will be no canoeing on Phoenix Lake as far as I'm concerned."

He said the steep sides make it "too dangerous a place" to permit canoeing or swimming.

DOUBLE LINE

The board approved a special agreement with Paul Sade, developer of apartments near Marinwood off Highway 101, to provide the buildings with a double main line when he begins the next section.

Seeger said, "I've determined a new policy for the engineering department" to provide double lines to large developments so the great number of residents wouldn't be without water and fire protection if one line breaks."

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

TANK—Awarded a contract for excavation and installation of a foundation pad at the Ghia Vista tank above Dollar Drive in San Rafael to Grover E. Wilson of San Rafael on a low bid of $2,587.

SUPPLIES—Approved a $41,265 bid from Allied Chemical Co. of San Francisco for 1,050 tons of liquid aluminum sulfate; a $21,144 bid from McKesson Chemical of San Francisco for 600 tons of hydrated lime; and an $8,627 bid from Georgia-Pacific Corp. of Richmond for 100 tons of liquid chlorine.

PIPELINES—Authorized pipeline extensions on Via Holon in Larkspur, requested by Belardo Co., at a cost of $6,177; off Butte Street, above the distillery in Sausalito, requested by Alan Kay, at a cost of $23,917; on Bridgeway in Sausalito, requested by Marin Freeholders of San Rafael, at a cost of $8,539; and at San Pedro Road and Main Drive in San Rafael, requested by Galli Homes, at a cost of $34,896, with all costs to be paid by the developers.

FIRELINE—Approved an additional line along Doherty Drive at Redwood High School, Larkspur, with the city and the district splitting the cost of $3,060.

UNIFORMS—Saw the new uniforms approved last summer for recreation attendants. Board President Robert G. Anderson called it a "sign of progress."

Two Suspended In 'Booknapping'

REDDING (AP) — Two Shasta High School seniors have been suspended for "booknapping" several encyclopedia volumes from the school library and leaving a ransom note demanding a "cheerful" library environment.

Vice Principal David Spahnower said yesterday the boys — Mark Henson and Dan Perlman, both 18—admitted they dumped 21 volumes of a 24 volume encyclopedia set into a trash can Monday and smuggled them past a library aide.

The books were spotted in a journalism department display window and returned to the library Tuesday.

Japanese Politicos To Seek Better U.S. Peking Policy

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Ten Japanese politicians who want America to drop her policy of isolating Communist China open a three-day conference tomorrow with five influential U.S. Senators, including Edward Kennedy.

The meeting is informal, but it will be closely watched because the men taking part have large stature in Japanese and American affairs.

There are only three items on the agenda, but all are politically explosive in both countries.

Behind closed doors the two delegations will discuss:

The question of seating Red China in the United Nations.

Trade with the Peking government, which Japan has cultivated in spite of American disapproval.

The future of the Nationalist Chinese government on Taiwan, headed by President Chiang Kai-shek, and recognized by the United States as the only lawful government of China.

The delegation of American senators has three Democrats and two Republicans. Besides Kennedy, the Democrats are Arkansas' J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and former presidential contender Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

The Republicans are Kentucky's John Sherman Cooper, a former ambassador to India, and Oregon's Mark Hatfield.

One Californian from the House of Representatives also will attend, Rep. Don Edwards, D-San Jose.

Israel Session

TEL AVIV (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban and U.N. peace envoy Gunnar Jarring met secretly in Zurich, Switzerland, last week for talks on the Arab-Israeli situation, the foreign ministry disclosed today.

Rock Guitarist's Dog Leads To Marijuana Raid

BERKELEY (UPI) — The lead guitarist of Country Joe and the Fish, a popular rock group, was arrested yesterday for possession of marijuana as a result of trouble with his dog.

Barry Melton, 21, his wife, Jinnette, 20, and a friend, Margi A. Cohen, 32, were taken into custody after a raid on the Melton home by federal, state and local officers.

The trouble began with a complaint about the Melton dog which brought a Berkeley police officer to the property to investigate. The policeman saw what he thought was a marijuana plant in the yard.

Narcotics agents, who obtained a warrant, found the plant gone when they raided the home, but said they discovered some marijuana in a bedroom.

Civil Liberties Union To Hear SDS Youth

Todd Gitlin, student activist with Students for a Democratic Society, will speak on "A radical Challenge to Concepts of Civil Liberties" at the 7:30 p.m. Sunday meeting of the Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

The chapter, which will meet in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center, also will hear a report on current legislation and elect new officers.

There's only one reason why American Savings isn't the largest savings & loan in America.

On January 1st, we combined the strength of American Savings in Northern California with the vitality of American Savings in Southern California, to form one giant savings association — with assets over $2¼ billion.

Following 84 years of steady growth, overnight American became the number one savings and loan association in dollar reserves. Our capital and reserves are now millions of dollars more than any other association's. (A good measure of financial strength.)

Today with 51 branch offices, American Savings has the largest branch-system in the industry. Naturally being number one in branches means added convenience for savers.

And as in the past, American Savings pays you the very highest interest in America on insured savings. (5% compounded daily in American Passbook Accounts and 5¼% in our Extra-Interest Plan.)

When you add such services as our Keogh Plan (for self-employed people) and our Check-A-Month Plans (for savers who want a monthly income) to all these firsts, you begin to wonder why we're not the largest savings and loan in America.

Well, the answer lies in that big number in the first paragraph.

Since tradition says that assets determine who's the largest, our $2¼ billion officially makes us number two.

However, we at American Savings have a tradition of our own. It says that by providing the best possible savings plans along with good service, the only way to go is up. And for the past 84 years it's been right.

VARYING THE LOOK FOR SPRING

in a lady-like way with the long shaped guardsman's jacket in navy, red or white, over matching sleeveless dress with white bodice, at center. The jacket-dress combination is part of the ensemble trend for spring. At right is Nat Hirsch's long line pantsuit done with single-breasted belted jacket with notched descending collar and wide lapels. The jacket is slit at the sides to hang straight over gently flared pants. A sleeveless skimmer dress comes with the pantsuit for variety. It's done in blue, yellow or natural.

WOMEN HISTORY-MAKERS

She Challenged Top Courts

Lacking legal and social rights until recent times, American women have made their own challenge in their own way in American society. The contributions of a Betsy Ross, an Eleanor Roosevelt, Abigail Adams or a Harriet Beecher Stowe are well known. Some lesser known achievers, challengers and characters are subjects of a weekly series on American "woman history."

By BARBARA HOSMER

What one person can do against a whole system is a distressing modern question. But it was in Belva Lockwood's day, too, when as a married woman nearing 40 she decided to become a lawyer. Turned down by two law schools because she was a woman, Mrs. Lockwood was finally admitted to the National University Law School and finished the course in 1873. But because the male students refused to be graduated with women she was not given her diploma.

She penned a polite but direct note to President Ulysses S. Grant, titular head of the law school, without reply. However the school's vice chancellor slipped her diploma into the stack handed to the President to sign. Busy with national affairs, Grant didn't notice that one had a woman's name on it. Thus Belva Lockwood got her law degree and was accepted at the district court.

THAT WAS THE easy part. In the next four decades she was to remove more discriminations than perhaps any other woman, and she never hurled a brick.

As a practicing Washington, D.C. attorney she was ready for the main event. Ever since the time the New York school board had offered her a teaching job at half the pay of men teachers she had vowed to fight injustice. She had already drafted and urged through Congress the bill granting equal pay for equal work in the federal civil service, obtained a jail matron for women prisoners, and helped gain equal property rights and equal guardianship over their children for District of Columbia wives.

Now she was representing clients whose cases must be argued at the top level. But she was denied a request to practice before the U.S. Court of Claims and not given a second glance by the Supreme Court. Women, she was told by the court, should go home, wait upon their husbands, bring up children, cook and make the beds. Widowed and the mother of a married daughter, Mrs. Lockwood had little cooking, dishwashing or bed making to do. And as a qualified lawyer she saw that women lawyers would be rebuffed continually unless the law could aid them.

She drafted a bill for Congress providing that any lawyer who had practiced before the highest court of any state or territory or the District of Columbia for three years and who was in good standing should be admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. When Congress passed the act in 1879 it not only ended restrictions in the federal courts but set the pattern for action in the states as well.

Mrs. Lockwood sat in velvet and lace in the Senate gallery as Sen. Aaron Sargent of California urged the bill's passage. After this historic victory Mrs. Lockwood sent bouquets to the senators who had supported her bill and called on the wife of President Rutherford B. Hayes, who complimented her upon her achievement, begun five years before.

AT THE AGE of 48 Belva Lockwood stood before the Supreme Court to take the oath, and three days later also was admitted to the U.S. Court of Claims. The year was 1876. Four years later it was she who moved admission of the first black attorney to the Supreme Court, Samuel R. Lowery.

The graying woman attorney became a familiar sight pedaling about the streets of the capital on business aboard an English tricycle which she introduced to the district and about which she said, "I persisted in doing notwithstanding newspaper comments." But Mrs. Lockwood won respect as a champion attorney for the oppressed of all kinds. She worked 10 to 12 hours in her office preparing briefs, and she kept up such a schedule into her late years.

She made a specialty of pension and claims cases against the government, and at the age of 75 won her most celebrated case—a $5 million settlement of a land treaty claim by the Cherokee Indians in North Carolina of which a disputed $4 million was interest. This was the most important case in amount of money that had been brought before the U.S. Court of Claims. And as icing to the cake the presiding judge was the very one who had first denied her entrance to that court.

Always a campaigner for woman suffrage, Belva Lockwood took a leap into politics, which earned her ridicule even from woman's rights crusaders Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony. Belva Lockwood ran as the first formal woman candidate for the U.S. presidency on the Equal Rights Party ticket, not once but twice, in 1884 and 1888.

THROUGH HER mid-eighties she seldom missed a woman's rights, property rights or peace meeting, and her black satin or blue silk-clad figure was a familiar sight on lecture platforms in behalf of women's causes. She attended every international peace congress from the first in 1889 at the Paris Exposition to her last in Rome in 1911.

At the age of 82 she was to write, "It's hard for me to leave Washington at this time of year—Congress meets tomorrow."

She continued to present memorials to Congress urging reforms in legislation, work to establish a house of detention for women and argue before the Senate committee on woman suffrage.

At 86 Belva Lockwood retired from law practice, but continued her work toward woman suffrage and peace, supporting Woodrow Wilson's bid for reelection.

And though she died in 1917, she had realized that the fight for woman suffrage had already been won, and that through her own personal struggle U.S. law schools and courts would be open to all women who wished to follow.

Dinner Party Set To Honor Oehlers

By MOLLY MARIN

The Arnold J. Oehlers (she is the internationally known artist Helen Gopen Oehler) of Carmel, formerly of Mill Valley, will be guests of honor at a dinner party tomorrow night given at the Mill Valley home of the Robert L. Schultzes, with whom they are staying this week.

Mrs. Oehler, who has traveled around the world many times, gives lectures about her trips and shows colored slides of scenes she has photographed from the viewpoint of an artist. Yesterday afternoon she gave a program for the Century Club in San Francisco entitled "Hokaido and New Guinea."

Following the dinner she will show some of her slides to the group of Mill Valley friends, who will be guests.

COL. (RET.) AND Mrs. Charles Praul have invited a number of their Bay Area friends to a brunch at the Officers club at Hamilton Air Force Base Sunday. Charlie and Wilda Praul also celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Wednesday. Colonel Praul was formerly base commander at Hamilton, and the Prauls have now purchased a home in Novato.

A GROUP OF old friends was reunited last weekend, some coming from as far away as Massachusetts, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lento.

The Lentos entertained Sunday at their San Rafael home. They were married Jan. 19, 1944, at Hamilton Air Force Base, and members of the original wedding party attended the celebration.

Guests included the couple's daughters, Francine, a student at Sacramento State College; and Marianne, a student at Foothill College; and their two-year-old son, Christopher. Also attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Cliff Cox and Ray Beaudoin of San Rafael, Ed Reardon of Sonoma, Francis Brussard of Boston, Matt Mathieson of Black Point, Art Hellender of El Cerrito, Al Beaudoin of Novato, Edward Gebhardt of Modesto, Victor Tourasco of Moraga and George Ford of San Diego and Mmes. Barbara Theime and Dot Olsen of San Rafael and Miss Mary Ringrose of San Jose.

MR. AND MRS. William G. Levy of Greenbrae are sailing today aboard the Mariposa from San Francisco to the South Pacific.

Ports of call during the cruise include Bora Bora, Papeete, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Nuafo'ou (Tin Can Island), Pago Pago and Honolulu.

A Possible Solution For Bed Wetting Child

By JOAN LISETOR

Many parents punish a child who wets the bed after the age of four. Instead of curing the habit, punishment makes it worse—so much so that it is carried over into adulthood, according to child psychologists.

The formal word for bed wetting is enuresis, and medical authorities estimate more than 12 million Americans suffer from it. There must be a solution to a problem so widespread and with so many detrimental aspects, thought Robert Stearns, and so he began research into the problem 18 years ago. His insight was gained during these years spending sleepless nights, watching over sleeping bedwetters to find ways to help them overcome their enuresis.

Additional research into the problem showed that only about five per cent of the bed wetting by older children and adults is caused by organic defect or disease. The remainder is of the habit variety, and the enuretics are sound

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Strong Reactions Stirred By Child Punishment Methods

DEAR HELEN:

As a not very hip granddad, I am perplexed with this term "bare-bottom" spanking your readers have been bandying about.

Now when I was young, fathers were proud of their ability with a razor strop and woe to the boy who didn't get his pants down before Pop got his sleeves rolled up. But even in that golden age of corporal punishment, girls were largely spared because of their ladylike modesty. They were known to run away from home rather than face such an ordeal.

According to some of your recent columns, teen-age girls are no longer immune. Has the old time respect for feminine modesty disappeared or is it possible that these youngsters are pulling your leg?

—DOUBTING THOMAS

DEAR TOM:

In this age of so-called permissiveness, you'd be surprised at how many teen-agers are still getting spanked at the drop of a hat. If you think they're putting me on, read sample letters from parents.

Dear Helen: Animals grow their own clothes and cannot take them off. Humans have clothes that are adjustable to meet conditions. There are things that can be better done in the nude. Corporal punishment is one of them. A rebellious kid needs a hell-fire father, and she shouldn't complain.

—REV. E.R.B.

My dear Helen: I am the mother of five girls, the oldest 18, and they all get hard floggings whenever they need them which is often. My sister's children are very rambunctious, but mine are very obedient, until the spankings wear off. We feel the younger children must hear and see the punishment so that they'll learn a lesson.

—MRS. R.R.

DEAR MRS. R.:

And I feel that you'll neither hear nor see much of your children from the minute they're old enough to strike out on their own! —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Sadistic punishments are still very much with us. I'm reminded of the California father who demanded that his daughter shoot her pet dog because she had disobeyed him. Instead, she turned the gun on herself.

—SHOCKED

No, DOUBTING THOMAS, these teen-agers aren't all pulling my leg, though some exaggerate and others send obvious hoaxes. Ordinary spankings are quite commonplace, and brutal, perverted treatment happens oftener than you dare to think. I wish I could tell you otherwise.

—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Fish, Poultry Good Buys For Weekend Food Shopper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

Beef, pork and poultry continue to be abundant with broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys leading the way. Beef steaks, roasts and ground beef, should appear in more than adequate supply in all areas. Pork items in abundance are hams, roasts, smoked picnics and perhaps spareribs in some areas. The U.S. Department of the Interior again reports that canned salmon, fish sticks and portions and frozen fish fillets are the fish buys to watch for this weekend.

In the West: Wholesale prices of fresh pork loins are higher in Western markets and Boston butts are higher in San Francisco and Portland. In San Francisco smoked hams are lower and calf is higher. Beef ribs are higher in Portland and Los Angeles and lower in San Francisco. Forequarters and rounds are higher in Portland, and arm chucks are higher in Los Angeles.

In Portland whole fryer chickens are lower and light hens are higher. In Los Angeles chicken hens under four pounds are higher, and tom turkeys 22 to 24 pounds are higher in San Francisco and Portland.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include: Apples, bananas, emperor grapes, grapefruit, lemons, orange, tangerines, carrots, onions and potatoes.

Seafood buys to watch for in the west are dungeness crab, canned salmon, halibut, oysters, canned shrimp and sole fillets.

A Sagging Style Show In Rome

ROME (AP) — Ken Scott built his new fashion collection on a sports theme and showed it Tuesday night in a sports arena, but the show sagged badly.

The designer from Indiana, who works in Milan, showed his spring and summer line in the dome-ceilinged Palazzetto dello Sport, built by architect Pierluigi Nervi for the 1960 Olympic Games.

But the fashion crowd, sitting uneasily among basketball equipment, failed to fill the vast, echoing arena. Looking a little tired, a white-suited Scott did his best, but he failed to inject action and atmosphere into the scene.

HIS FABRICS were printed with sparring boxers, starters' flags, racing cars, footballers and cycling stars. They were used for singlets, shorts and pants.

While a hi-fi blared, male and female mannequins moved against a filmed background of sporting events. But they moved too languidly when snappy athletic action and physical exertion were needed. The girl models wore shiny thigh-high fishermen's boots, goggles and chunky jewelry made out of leather. The best group of dressers were for spectator sports, styled like elongated polo sweaters and printed in pinkish tones of beige.

In satin jersey and velvet were huge wraparound evening shawls dripping with coq feathers. They were worn over matching track suits.

Although these costumes were printed with the same athletic themes, they didn't seem to be connected with sports. Scott called them clothes for playing night games.

EARLIER IN THE DAY, the house of Carosa scored a hit with gray tweed jump suits topped by white linen blouses and matching gray tweed jackets, the layered look so popular this year.

Skirts were circular and short. Tank suits in sophisticated brown, black and white silk with sash-swathed hips and scarf-tied necklines were a new idea for the smart resort life.

There was a new version of the dip-skirted evening gown. Carosa's designer, Angelo Tarlazzi, chose to make it in navy flannel with neckline, wrists and slanting hem edged in ship's ropes of blue and white silk. It looked much smarter than in the usual flimsy evening fabric.

There was even a new idea on nudity, a well worn theme at these Rome shows.

Tarlazzi made a long fitted jacket in black terry cloth and edged it in gold ric-rac braid. It opened to reveal black napa bikini pants and a heavy gold chain necklace partially hiding the model's bosom.

Sunny Hills Juniors To Sponsor Two-Day Horse Show In Fairfax

The Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary will sponsor a fully-accredited horse show for equestrians of all ages at the Circle V Ranch in Fairfax on Feb. 1 and 2. Show-time on both days is 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Everyone in local and neighboring communities is invited to attend.

Mrs. Bitsy Shields, who has been a major figure in riding instruction in Marin County at Sleepy Hollow Stables and now at the Circle V, will direct the horse show for the second year. With increasing Bay Area interest in riding and riding instruction, Mrs. Shields anticipates an annual Marin County show.

The youngsters and adults who enter these shows work for championship points in both English and Western riding styles. At the Circle V weather will be no problem, because the ranch has an indoor ring.

Mrs. Robert Berry of the Junior Auxiliary is general chairman and has as her committee chairmen: staffing, Mrs. Edward Burke and Mrs. David King; properties, Mrs. Horace Hill III; food, Mrs. Donald MacRae and Mrs. David Shippey; secretary, Mrs. Edmond Ward; sponsors, Mrs. V. N. Fulton; signs, Mrs. Norton Hastings and Mrs. Verle Sorgen; publicity, Mrs. Harold Marquis.

Proceeds from the horse show will benefit the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

TAMALPAIS CENTRE Woman's Club will host the new members at a luncheon tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Mrs. Clyde R. Young is luncheon chairman, assisted by Mrs. Marguerite Bates, Edith Conran, O. C. Houghton, Louis Ravicz, Genevieve Shepard and W. E. Storm.

TWO THOUSAND Marin mothers will participate in the Mothers March of Dimes Saturday and Sunday, announced the march chairman, Mrs. Ralph R. Clark Jr. of Terra Linda.

Area leaders for the march, which last year raised nearly $20,000 to correct and prevent birth defects, are Mmes. Florida B. Even, Hank Murphy, F. Ewing Bone, L. A. Ralmer, A. A. Hill, W. R. Barthel, John S. Countermine and James D. King, San Rafael; Keith W. Hayball, San Quentin; Harold Brownstein, Kentfield; Lawrence Romano, Kent Woodlands; G. B. Stewart, Santa Venetia; and Fred W. Ikey, Lower Lucas Valley.

March of Dimes workers will be assisted in West Marin by Annette Bunce, who has recruited 25 high school students to participate in the march, and by 20 members of the San Rafael High School Key Club, headed by Reagan Wilson.

THE SAN RAFAEL Military Academy Mothers Club will hold the organization's first meeting at Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club tomorrow. The social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

"The Son and the Student at San Rafael Military Academy" will be discussed by Col. Brice Pace, Dean of Academics, and Dr. James Rhoades, Director of Admissions.

THE ANNUAL meeting and stag dinner for the San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, originally scheduled for Saturday has been postponed. No date for rescheduling has as yet been announced.

ISABEL COOK School Parent-Teacher Association is having a potluck dinner tonight at 6:15 p.m. at the school.

Families are asked to bring a dish to serve 12 people that is in keeping with the family's native or ethnic background. Following dinner students will perform the play "Ole King Cole."

HEART ATTACK RISKS

Cooking To Lower Fat Intake

Last of three articles containing practical suggestions by the Marin County Heart Association on how the homemaker can modify a diet to decrease the family's risk of heart attacks.

Tell some people they had cholesterol and saturated fat for breakfast; they'd probably deny it. They'd tell you they had bacon and eggs, roll with butter and coffee with cream.

There really is no difference between the two "meals." But once an individual knows that his eating habits are wrong, he may be on the road to correction. And switching to a fat-controlled, low-cholesterol diet, not only at breakfast, but also at all meals, may help to reduce the risk of atherosclerosis, which underlies most heart attacks, says the Marin County Heart Association.

Modifying the diet to reduce the family's risk of heart disease will require some changes in eating habits. However, many of the foods people prefer can remain in the diet, providing they are prepared properly or used less frequently. With this in mind, the Marin County Heart Association offers the woman of the house some cooking tips to perk up a menu.

Even lean meat has fat in it, so cook it on a meat rack and allow the rendered fat to drain off. Use wine, tomato juice or bouillon instead of fat drippings to baste the meat. In stick-to-the-ribs dishes such as stews or soup stocks, cook them a day ahead and refrigerate. The meat fat then can be removed after it hardens on top of the preparation.

An endless variety of vegetables can be eaten in a fat-controlled diet. Herbs and spices can give the vegetables added zest. Combinations that add new and subtle flavors include: rosemary with peas, cauliflower and squash, oregano with zucchini, dill with green beans, marjoram with brussels sprouts, carrots and spinach, and basil with tomatoes.

Try cooking the vegetables in vegetable oil — one or two teaspoons for each half-cup serving. Place in a skillet with tight cover, season and cook over very low heat, adding a little water during cooking, if necessary.

The liquid vegetable oils can be used in many other ways in cooking which calls for the use of fat. For example: in frying fish and poultry, to saute onions, in cream sauces, soups and whipped potatoes, when they are made with swim milk, for making hot breads and cakes and in many other dehydrated or prepared foods which call for fat to be added.

Desserts keyed to a fat-controlled, low-cholesterol diet can have variety as well as flavor. Many home-baked goodies can continue to appear on the table, but they should be made with polyunsaturated margarines or oils. Puddings should be made with non-fat milk. But avoid chocolate puddings, since they are high in saturated fat. Egg whites can be used without restriction, as a topping for desserts, for example, or in angel cake. Fresh fruit is recommended.

The homemaker who follows this advice in running her kitchen may be helping her own heart as well as those of all the loved ones in her family. The youngsters stand to gain most by acquiring tastes and eating habits in their formative years that may help them avoid premature heart disease.

THERE IS GROWING evidence that most people can, by changing some of their daily habits, reduce their risk of acquiring heart disease. Controlling the amounts of cholesterol and fats in the diet is one such step.

What are the other things that individuals can do to help reduce their risk of coronary artery disease? They can:

1. Reduce if overweight.
2. Stop smoking cigarettes.
3. Exercise moderately, regularly.
4. Get medical treatment if they have high blood pressure or diabetes.

Young men are more susceptible than women to heart disease, and both become increasingly susceptible with advancing years. The earlier a risk reduction program is begun, the better the chance of reducing the risk.

Loungewear

New fashion appeal of dormitory loungewear is enough to make home work a pleasure. Versatile styling in the form of multi-purpose outfits has taken loungewear from behind closed doors and brought it out on campus. The busy coed can switch from classroom wear to nifty culotte loungers for study sessions, gabfests or errand-running out of the dorm.

Lari-Keeler Vows Recited In Larkspur

Ronald G. Lari wed Mrs. Joan C. Keeler Saturday at the Church of All Faiths in Corte Madera.

The Rev. and Mrs. Merle Roark of San Jose are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Ray V. Lari of Kentfield and Mrs. Fronda DeVoir of San Rafael.

Mrs. Lynn Ingersoll of Redwood City was matron of honor, and the bride's son, Paul R. Keeler, was best man. Another son of the bride, Shaun N. Keeler, ushered.

The bride has another son, Gregory, and a daughter Sheryl. She was graduated from Palo Alto High School and attended San Jose State College. Joan is employed by the Village Pharmacy in Mill Valley. Mrs. Celeste Burkhardt of San Jose is her grandmother.

Little Film Festivals Make The Scene In San Francisco

By GARY TISCHLER

More proof positive that the flicks have turned into something more than a popcorn commodity is evidenced again by a rash of little film festivals and retrospectives.

The M. H. de Young Memorial Museum and the San Francisco Museum of Art are both running film festivals.

A fantasy film festival, described as a film survey of surrealistic films, winds up at the San Francisco Museum of Art with its last program, consisting of Alain Resnais' puzzling 1961 classic "Last Year at Marienbad," and two films by local filmmakers: "Liberation of the Manique," by Steve Arnold and "Hamlet Asar," an animated collage by Larry Jordan. Tuesday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m.

The M. H. de Young Memorial Museum kicks off its winter film series "The Private Eye," with John Huston's adaptation of "The Maltese Falcon," circa 1941 and starring Humphrey Bogart, Thursday, Jan. 31.

The Surf Theater, an old standby in presenting festivals and retrospectives, kicks off a new series of six local premieres with Andy Warhol's "Bike Boy," Wednesday. Other slightly off-beat films to follow are Conrad Rook's "Chappaqua," Louis Malle's "The Fire Within," the documentary

"Warrendale," Godard's "Pierrot Le Fou," and the Hungarian "Father."

MUSIC

Seiji Ozawa will be the guest conductor and pianist Jeanne-Marie Darre will be the guest soloist at the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's regular subscription performance Wednesday at the Opera House.

Program includes Haydn's "Symphony No. 75," Saint Saens' "Piano Concerto No. 5," and Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

The New York Pro Musica will perform in a single concert at the University of California's Zellerbach Auditorium in Berkeley Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

DRAMA

The American Conservatory Theater's second production for children, "Alice in Wonderland," opens Saturday, Feb. 1 at the Marines' Memorial Theater.

The San Francisco Children's

ART

The Celebrities Art Exhibit is now on display at the White Front's San Francisco Seals Stadium store at 2300 16th St. at Potrero Ave. On exhibition are works of top celebrities, including Elke Sommers, Charlton Heston, Anthony Perkins, Xavier Cugat, Soupy Sales, Jonathan Winters, Steve Allen, etc. It's a 57-piece exhibit.

ACT schedule through Thursday:

Geary Theater — Friday "A Flea in Her Ear," 8:30 p.m.; Saturday "The Devil's Disciple," 8:30 p.m.; Sunday "The Devil's Disciple," 2 p.m. "A Flea in Her Ear," 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday "The Devil's Disciple," 8:30 p.m.; Wednesday "Hamlet," 8:30 p.m.; Thursday "Hamlet," 2 p.m.; "A Flea in Her Ear," 8:30 p.m.

Marine's Memorial Theater — "Little Murders," 8:30 p.m.; Saturday "In White America," 8:30 p.m.; Sunday "Staircase," 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday "Staircase," 8:30 p.m.; Wednesday "A Delicate Balance," 8:30 p.m.; Thursday "A Delicate Balance," 2 p.m.; "Little Murders," 8:30 p.m.

Ghirardelli Square — "The Fantasticks," 8 and 10:30 p.m.; Saturday: 8:30 p.m. Tuesday: 1:30 and 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Curran Theater — "Barefoot in the Park," Monday through Thursday, 8:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 7 and 9:45 p.m. Little Fox Theater — "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," Sunday at 4 and 7 p.m.; Tuesday and Wednesday 2 and 8:30 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 8:30 p.m. Interplayers — "Tom Faine," today and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.; Saturday 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.

San Francisco Museum of Art — Lithographs by Frank Lobdell, through Feb. 16; Israel on Paper, through Feb. 23. M. H. de Young Memorial Museum — Paintings by John Frederick Kensett, through Feb. 13; Here Today: a photographic survey of San Francisco history sites, through March 2.

California Palace of the Legion of Honor — Japanese ivory carvings, through March 22; drawings by Eskimo artists, through March 9.

The Burtons Keep Royalty From Film

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton kept royalty waiting at a film premiere last night. They pleaded car trouble.

The Burtons were to have been in the lineup of stars greeting Queen Elizabeth II, when she arrived with her husband, Angus Ogilvy, to see Burton's film "Where Eagles Dare."

But the Burtons were missing. "Are we going to wait for them or what, darling?" asked Ogilvy.

"I don't know," said the princess. Red-faced MGM officials apologized and led the royal couple to their seats.

By the time the Burtons arrived, 20 minutes late, the red carpet had been rolled up and the film had started.

"Our Rolls-Royce broke down," said Burton. "We were stuck for an hour—and there wasn't a pub for miles."

Finally they got a lift. The World War II movie got mixed reviews from the critics. Richard Roud of the guardian called it a "ridiculous spy story."

But Cecil Wilson of the Daily Mail said it was "exciting to watch even when it grows too hard to follow."

Beirut Names Street For Charles DeGaulle

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Municipal Council voted unanimously yesterday to name one of the city's main streets after Charles de Gaulle.

Chairman Amin Beyhum said the city wanted to thank the French president for banning the export of arms to Israel following the Israeli raid on Beirut airport last month.

One of the largest meteorites was brought to New York City from Greenland by Admiral Perry.

Festival Films Will Be Shown

Four winners of the film as art category of the San Francisco International Film Festival last fall will be shown at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday at the Golf Clubhouse, 267 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley.

James Broughton of Mill Valley will show "The Bed," which he filmed in Frank's Valley near Muir Woods with a cast which includes many Marinites.

Other films include "Valentin des las Sierras" by Bruce Baillie; "Chinese Fire Drill" by Will Hindle and "Film" by John Schofield.

Eisenhowers To See Grandmother

WASHINGTON (AP) —David and Julie Eisenhower end their inauguration stay in Washington today with a trip to Gettysburg, Pa., to see Mamie Eisenhower.

A White House spokesman said they planned to visit the former first lady, David's grandmother, and then would see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, in Phoenixville, Pa.

They saw David's grandfather, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, last weekend at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he is recuperating from a series of heart attacks.

Sausalitan Writes Elegiac To Kennedy

An elegiac for Robert Kennedy, written by Sausalito poet Leon Spiro, has been included in the 1968 "Franco-Romanian Universal Poetry Anthology" edited by Dr. Octav Prour of Banat, Roumania.

Spiro's elegy first appeared in the Marin Magazine of the Independent-Journal and has since been translated and published elsewhere in seven languages.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Celebration' Is Bright Addition To The Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Let's get this straight, "Celebration," the musical that opened last night at Broadway's Ambassador Theater isn't a regular Broadway musical, not by a stageful of new talents, weird notions and bold visual innovations.

The colorful masquerade mostly succeeds in its determination to be different. Occasionally it tries too hard. But any theater buff interested in more than routine craftsmanship will find it well worth seeing.

The authors—Tom Jones for book and lyrics, Harvey Schmidt for music—structure the offbeat fantasy on elemental fable, just as they did that remarkable off-Broadway marathon hit, "The Fantasticks."

There's an innocent, romantic youth; a pert, ambitious lass; and the rich old Scrooge who almost ruins their dreams. As the catalyst who whips the plot along and serves as audience confederator, a tattered synthesis of worldly cynicism named Potemkin completes the quartet of main characters.

With a dozen madly costumed dancing-singing choristers as helpers, "Celebration" ranges like an eerie dream into a timeless yet contemporary assortment of topical relevances, the sources of religious belief and even considers the glandular aspirations of elderly gaffers.

Humor, much of it with a hard edge, weaves particularly through the distinctive score that includes three or four numbers headed for the popularity polls.

Jones, perhaps a bit indulgently, has directed the cascading sequence of scenes and is notably assisted in creating pictorial impact by Choreographer Vernon Lusby, mostly busy heretofore as an assistant to Agnes de Mille.

Among newcomer talents,

Keith Charles as the sly vagabond, and Michael Glenn-Smith as boyish vulnerability, perform and sing with assurance and authority. Susan Watson, our heroine, nicely projects requisite qualities.

The fourth principal, Ted Thurston, is strenuously dexterous and stops the show with "Where Did It Go."

THE CATTLE LOOK FINE

Rancher Johnson Says 'It Hurts Good' To Be Retired President

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — Under the spreading oaks, under the big benign sky of Texas, a lone rancher named Lyndon Baines Johnson allowed as how the cattle looked good.

"We've had some cold spells that burnt the oats some," he said. "I went horseback riding with my favorite girl this morning and the cattle—well, I don't want to say they never had it so good—but they generally look good."

Three days out of the White House, Johnson also allowed as how he'll "certainly" miss power but is not having trouble decompressing. He said he "enjoyed very much" being president and that he is satisfied that his renunciation of another term helped bring North Vietnam to the peace table and helped unify a divided America.

'IT HURTS GOOD'

About missing power, he said, "I'm sure any person who has been active as I have for 38 years in public affairs will notice when the roll is called and his name is not there. But I want to miss it. It hurts good."

Johnson and his wife aired their thoughts at a news conference on the broad lawn before their big white frame ranch house, near the plastic bubble covering the swimming pool on the banks of the Pedernales River.

The former President wore a light gray western hat, a tan gaudy hunting suit and yellow sports shirt. He spoke so softly newsmen sitting in a circle around him pulled in closer and the scene began to resemble a sedate crap game until Mrs. Johnson served cookies and a soft drink. When it was over, the 36th president of the United States picked up many of the empty plastic cups left on the lawn.

SEEMED TAUT

The words of the former president were those of a relaxed man but his manner, in the view of many veteran Johnson watchers, was not. To them, he appeared taut and his smile was somewhat perfunctory and, as always, he still sparred carefully with reporters.

Perhaps his most revealing answer was to the question: "Are you a happy man today, Mr. President?"

"Yes," said Lyndon Johnson, "I think so."

He spoke of the many things he no longer has to do, the "decisions to be made by 4 o'clock," the 15 or 20 appointments to keep every day, the military intelligence reports to be read, the cables from the "sensitive capitals" of the world to be studied.

Last March 31 President Johnson renounced another term in the White House in the hope that this act would help bring Hanoi to the peace table and help end the divisiveness in the country.

He said yesterday he is satisfied that his withdrawal was effective on both levels. "North Vietnam," he said "might have been hesitant to come to Paris if they thought I was acting for political reasons." Domestically, he said, his renunciation resulted in "less protest from the dissenting groups in the cities than if I were still a candidate."

"They lost some of their incentive when they found out I was not expecting them to vote for me. When they understood this, there was less hatred and less bitterness."

'LOST TARGET'

Mrs. Johnson interposed, "they lost their symbol, their target."

On his first morning as an ex-president, Johnson awoke early as usual—6:30 or 7—but with "no particular thoughts" about no longer being the nation's chief executive.

Would he ever run again for elective office? Johnson seemed reluctant to close out his options. He said he had no plans along these lines but "no one can say for certain what the future will encompass. The best laid plans of mice and men often come to naught."

Returning to the house, Lady Bird Johnson was asked if she was enjoying a sense of liberation.

The former First Lady threw out her arms and a big warm smile crossed her face and she said, with an intensity that seemed to come up from her heels:

"I'm feeling fine, just fine!"

Pause. Then: "But I am worried about getting all those clothes into these closets."

UTILITY TRUCK TOPPLES

A fireman inspects Pacific Gas and Electric Co. truck after the vehicle overturned while trying to avoid a car stopped in its lane on Highway 101 in Greenbrae at 12:40 p.m. yesterday. The southbound truck was driven by Clifton D. Belknap, 27, of 147 Bothin Road, Fairfax, who was admitted to Marin General Hospital with scalp cuts and a bruised arm. He was reported in fair condition today. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Rafael Man Charged In Burglary

A 29-year-old San Rafael man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on a warrant charging him with the Sept. 21 burglary of Disco Wonderworld, 555 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Police said Kenneth Wayne Vernon of 508 D Street surrendered himself in connection with the $25,000 burglary of stereos, televisions, wedding rings, bracelets, watches and guns.

Inspector Richard A. Douglas said Vernon and another man were named in the theft by a man arrested in San Francisco who was carrying one of the stolen Disco guns.

He said a warrant would also be issued for the other man, Clifford James Thomas, 26, of Daly City. Thomas is in state prison, after being convicted in Redwood City of rape, sexual perversion and armed robbery, Douglas said.

Douglas said about $8,000 worth of merchandise from the Disco store and from the Alec Department Store in Broadmoor was found at the home of Thomas. Another $2,000 worth was located in Vernon's San Rafael home.

Vernon was released on bail of $3,625 to appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday.

Woman, 79, Rescued - Broke Hip In Fall

A 79-year-old Mill Valley woman, who had lain on her living room floor for more than 40 hours with a broken hip, was rescued yesterday by a telephone repairman investigating her out-of-order telephone.

The woman, Faye Needham of 35A Reed Street, was reported in fair condition today at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

The repairman, Ronald N. Burnett of 150 Harvard Avenue, Mill Valley said he had been sent to investigate why Mrs. Needham's telephone was off the hook after a friend of hers complained she had been getting busy signals for several hours when trying to call the elderly woman.

Burnett, who had been alerted that there was an elderly woman living alone in the home, said he expected "problems" yesterday morning when he arrived at the somewhat isolated hillside apartment complex.

The shades were drawn and the house was dark, Burnett said, but when he knocked on the door a "dry, raspy voice" said, "I can't come to the door; I've fallen down."

He forced a window, entered the home and found Mrs. Needham lying on the living room floor some 20 feet away from the telephone which she had knocked off the hook in an attempt to call for help.

"She said she had been there for two days waiting for someone to rescue her," Burnett said.

He said Mrs. Needham's telephone apparently had been off the hook since Monday evening, but that no one had investigated the warning light which comes on in the main Mill Valley office whenever a phone is off the hook for more than 30 seconds. This was because during a storm, any short circuit in the lines will activate the warning lights.

Mrs. Needham was not able to explain how she got the phone off the hook, Burnett said, but he speculated she may have thrown something at it to dislodge the receiver.

Burnett, of Pacific Telephone, immediately called an ambulance and comforted Mrs. Needham.

He also called Mrs. Needham's daughter-in-law in Washington at her request and, after she left for the hospital, took her small dog to a local kennel. "She really seemed much more concerned about the dog than herself," he said.

Innocent Plea In Auto Theft

John L. Massengale, 27, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of stealing cars in Sausalito Sept. 28 and in Larkspur Sept. 15, 1968.

A jury trial was set for the week of April 14.

Distillery Site Plans Are Blocked

Plans for a 548-apartment development on the American Distillery Co. property north of Sausalito were blocked last night when the Sausalito Planning Commission voted 4-1 against a variance on lot coverage and voted unanimously against allowing higher density than the city ordinance allows.

The commission postponed action on a third application by R and B Development Co. for a conditional use permit until the city council hears appeals from the other commission denials.

R and B was represented by San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, principal partner Robert Franks, site planner L. G. Throngard and architect Robert Skinner, the latter three from Los Angeles.

The developers proposed a collection of 16 three-story apartment buildings grouped around a recreation center, with a density of approximately 1000 square feet per unit on the 13-acre site.

Area residents who crowded city hall for the hearing were divided over the project.

The commission voted 5-0 against an ordinance amendment to allow the 1,000-square-foot density. The city's maximum residential density now is 1,500 square feet per unit.

On the variance for greater lot coverage, Mrs. Virginia Pasquiniucci voted against denial while Robert L. Nissen, Murray Smith, Violeta Autumn and Richard L. Whitaker voted to deny.

While the area is outside the city, R and B is tying its proposal to annexation and seeking needed changes before annexation takes place.

Novato Traffic Tag Blamed On Light

A traffic tieup in Novato for the past two mornings was caused by a change in traffic signal timing on Highway 101 at Diablo Avenue, police reported.

The light was allowing only about five cars to get through on Highway 101 at each change. This would be corrected today, police said.

CLOSED MEETING OPENED

Marin's Drug Problem

By JOANNE GRANT

A closed meeting for Marin physicians and their wives on "Society and Drugs", featuring talks by public officials, was opened after all last night, minus one speaker.

Inspector William G. Burgess, head of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau, declined to speak after he read in the Independent-Journal yesterday that the meeting would be closed to the press and public.

"We are not doing anything in the drug abuse bureau that we do not want the public to know about," said Burgess who was to discuss problems of enforcement. "We informed them that if the meeting was closed to press and public, we would not attend."

Dr. Gerald Hill, who was quoted in the I-J as saying speakers were expected to say privately what they would not say in public, said last night his remarks had been misinterpreted.

Dr. Hill explained the meetings were intended as instructional sessions for doctors and their wives who may be uninformed about the total problem of drug use.

A closed meeting, he believed, would give the doctors a chance to ask questions which might show an element of ignorance.

Dr. Hill said some material presented by doctors in earlier sessions in the four-week series was the result of preliminary studies. When research is completed the conclusions could be different, he said, and premature publication could confuse or mislead the public.

The three speakers who appeared last night indicated they were unaware the meeting was closed until they read Dr. Hill's statement in the I-J.

Marin Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. said his remarks were prepared for ultimate publication and both Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps and Rev. John S. Thornton, pastor of St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, said they had no objections to a reporter being present.

The minister surprised most of his audience with a somewhat unorthodox view of the use of psychedelic substances — presenting positive aspects of their use.

Stressing that he does not advocate the use of psychedelic substances nor has he used them himself, Thornton said the users are "raising some very important questions about our common life and its goals."

He cited society's involvement with status and things as two items being questioned and noted that users of psychedelic substances are also promoting awareness of peoples' unity with the physical world.

Thornton, former pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito, said he had collected his information from talks with users along the Sausalito waterfront. He reported the main topic his waterfront friends wanted to discuss was God.

He cited laziness and non-participation as some of the negative aspects of drug use.

Kreps, who outlined current efforts in drug education, flatly disagreed with Thornton, as did several spectators.

Kreps said one of the education tools used at Redwood was former drug users, such as Synanon residents. He said all of the Synanon people who have spoken at Redwood reported they started on marijuana to escape and eventually needed something stronger to continue escaping.

Kreps, noting that the state education code requires instruction on the "evils of alcohol, drugs and narcotics," said it is only recently that education has tried to present more than the purely scientific aspects of drugs, or has used anything more than fear films on a heroin addict in withdrawal. Young people couldn't connect that first marijuana cigarette with heroin withdrawal, he said.

Now, he said, the school tries to present straight facts, finding "facts are a far better deterrent than fear." And, drug education is now included in social studies and other classes to give students the total picture.

Counseling is provided for students who become involved with drugs and, currently, the schools are also teaching parents about drugs.

He said the education process is aimed at giving the students the kind of independence and freedom it takes to refuse drugs. Kreps pleaded with the doctors for more help on education, more research to provide facts.

And Judge Goldstein also asked their help, suggesting "the medical profession become more active in humanizing the drug laws" which he said have largely been written by the federal bureau of narcotics.

Judge Goldstein emphasized the need for treatment of addicts rather than criminal punishment, but admitted existing facilities would not take care of the problem.

He said he planned to appear before the Marin County Board of Supervisors within the next few months to ask for a halfway house for alcoholics in an effort to help them solve their problems.

Judge Goldstein questioned current policies of punishing addicts for crimes that are a direct result of their addiction, such as possession of narcotics.

"We appear to be on the threshold of a new era in the determination of criminal responsibility, based upon the frank recognition that neither the disease itself nor conduct produced and made inevitable by disease should be punished by criminal law," he said.

He emphasized he didn't believe any more drugs should be legalized, but proposed restructuring criminal law to include four classes.

They would be crimes of violence, crimes against property, nonviolent crimes which violate the rights of others and self-destructive crimes which would include drug violations.

Man Booked As Beating Suspect

William A. Maas, 53, of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was booked into Marin County Jail last night on suspicion of felony wife beating.

Police said Maas kicked in the door to his apartment and kicked and beat his wife, Carolene Jean Maas, 38.

Maas was held on bail of $6,250 to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Bagley Is Selected Financial Chairman

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, has been selected as chairman of the powerful Assembly Finance and Insurance Committee.

Generally regarded as one of the four most important committees in the Assembly, it affects some of the most potent interest groups in the state, including banks, insurance companies and the California Chamber of Commerce.

During the past two sessions of the Legislature, Bagley headed the judiciary committee, which is not as politically volatile as his new chairmanship.

The committee also is important because of its contacts with major lobbyists and sources of political donations.

The other top committees are ways and means, revenue and taxation and education.

Bagley's appointment was to be announced this afternoon by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, who selects all committee chairmen.

36,000 Due Tax Refund In Marin

About 36,000 Marin homeowners will qualify for the $70 homeowners' tax refund, which means a total state payment of about $2.5 million to Marin, Herschel Johnson, assistant assessor predicted today.

During the first week of January, the assessor mailed out 46,284 applications for tax refund. Since each homeowner can claim only one $70 refund regardless of how many parcels he owns, Johnson estimated that about 36,000 Marin homeowners would get refunds.

As of Tuesday, 23,250 claims had been filed with the assessor's office, which means a 65 per cent response.

Payments to homeowners will be made directly by the state controller by June 15.

The $750 homeowners exemption claim forms will be mailed to Marin homeowners on or about March 1. The homeowners exemption will be applied in 1969-70 fiscal year. The $70 tax refund is a refund on 1968-69 taxes. Both of these tax measures were approved by voters when they passed Proposition 1-A in November.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Jan. 23, the 23rd day of 1969 with 342 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1845 Congress ruled that all national elections shall take place on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November.

In 1938 17 Communists confessed they had conspired with Leon Trotsky to undermine the regime of Josef Stalin.

In 1948 Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said he would not accept a nomination for President from either party. But in 1952 he won on the Republican ticket.

A thought for the day: President George Washington said, "There can be no greater error than to expect or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Right Response Can Sometime Lift A Two Bid To Slam Play

The weak two-bid, favored by almost all experts in the United States, promises a strong six-card suit in a hand not worth an ordinary opening bid. If responder has a good enough hand he may bid a slam, but he should not count on the opening bidder for much strength outside of the suit he has first bid.

No. 3772 _____ Jan. 23, 1969

partner will almost undoubtedly bid three clubs or three diamonds, and you will then feel compelled to bid 3 no-trump. This will put you in game willy-nilly even if partner has a very poor hand. If you bid 2 no-trump instead of doubling, you have a chance to stay out of game if partner has a poor hand. No action is completely satisfactory, which simply demonstrates that the weak two-bid complicates bidding for the opponents.

Czech Parliament Seats Two Liberals

PRAGUE (UPI)—Ota Sik and Eduard Goldstuecker, two of Czechoslovakia's most liberal reformers, today were sworn into the Czech regional parliament in an emotional first public appearance since they returned from self-exile abroad.

The two men returned to Prague yesterday for the first time since last August's Warsaw Pact invasion.

Friends crowded around the two short, dark-haired men to shake their hands and congratulate them after the swearing-in ceremony for members of the new local parliament under the federalized system.

Persons who attended the ceremony reported both men said they would stay in Czechoslovakia a short time and then go abroad again to meet "commitments" to universities where they are studying and lecturing.

Both also were quoted as saying they expected to return permanently to Czechoslovakia after the end of the summer school term this year.

Sik, a former deputy premier fired under Kremlin pressure because he was the architect of last spring's radical economic reform program, is doing research in Basel, Switzerland. Goldstuecker, president of the Writers' Union who launched a drive for political reforms in 1967, is lecturing at Sussex University, Brighton, England.

Meanwhile, Prague radio said youths were heading by bus, auto and on foot to Prague from all over the nation to attend the funeral Saturday of Jan Palach, the student who burned himself to protest the Russian invasion. Prague city officials announced all cinemas and theaters would close Saturday. Hunger strikers who have refused to eat since last Saturday to support Palach's demands for reforms were back on Wenceslas and Old Town Squares today. Police made them give up their tents but they kept warm from oil heaters provided them by street workers.

The Czech regional government warned against "any misuse" of the Palach funeral by "irresponsible people" to cause "unrest and other rash acts."

At the same time, National Defense Minister Martin Duzar called on the armed forces to support the government and "strictly fulfill orders of army commanders" during "the sudden political crisis in connection with the deed of Jan Palach."

After an emergency session last night, the Czech cabinet said three self-burnings that followed Palach's "have a certain connection with the whole atmosphere despite their various motives."

Palach burned himself Jan. 16 to protest curtailment of reforms since the Soviet bloc invasion in August. In death he has become a national hero. The Czech regional parliament stood in his honor today.

The ministry of interior and the union of students have said the other three attempted suicides were "psychopathic" criminals and not members of Palach's 15-student ring pledged to die for reforms, but that their acts added to the tension.

Senator Calls State National Guard 'Racist'; Plans A Probe

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Negro Sen. Mervyn M. Dymally, chairman of the Senate's military affairs committee, says the California National Guard is "racist" and will be investigated. Dymally's statement drew quick fire from his Assembly counterpart.

Dymally, a Los Angeles Democrat and the state's first Negro senator, said yesterday there is even a remote chance he might propose legislation to abandon the guard.

Assemblyman George W. Milas, R-Gilroy, chairman of the Assembly Committee on State Employment, Retirement and Military Affairs, called Dymally's attack on the guard an "insult to the many thousands of Californians serving as members of the National Guard."

In a statement and interview, Dymally said "the National Guard is a haven for white, middle-class draft dodgers. I am opposed to the military-industrial complex that is running our state and country. I see no use-

Three Facing Charges In Slaying Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The district attorney's office today prepared murder complaints against three suspects in the slayings of two Black Panther party members during a meeting of Negro students at UCLA.

The office indicated charges would be filed against George and Larry Stiner, currently held by police on suspicion of murder, and a third person who was unnamed.

Police were seeking two other suspects for questioning. Their names were supplied to detectives by leaders of the Panthers.

Police also investigated the possibility the murders climaxed a gun battle between members of two rival Negro groups — the Panthers and US.

The Stiner brothers were identified as members of US and the UCLA meeting reportedly was called to resolve a dispute among the Panthers, US and the Black Students Union about who was to be appointed director of the proposed Afro-American Studies Center at the university.

Meanwhile, two other Panthers who were arrested last Friday at the home of one of the victims were arraigned in municipal court on charges of possessing explosives and bombs.

Ronald Gene Freeman, 24, and Nathaniel Cecil Clark Jr., 18, were arrested along with 15 other Black Panthers after a number of firearms and explosives were found cached inside the house.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Richard Hecht said no complaints had been filed against the others pending further investigation.

Reinecke Sees Job As 'Great Challenge'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, ready for a formal ceremony as the state's No. 2 officeholder, said today he sees his new job as a "great challenge" but one he expects to enjoy.

Reinecke, 45, signed the oath of office at a huge oaken desk in Gov. Ronald Reagan's office Tuesday. But he sent out formal invitations for a ceremonial swearing in late today in the Capitol Rotunda.

He resigned as a three-term U.S. congressman and flew to Sacramento to take the new post. His first job was a difficult one of sitting through a session of the state college board of trustees.

"It certainly was an education for me," the tall, dark Reinecke said of his first attempt at wrestling with difficult higher education problems of the nation's most populous state.

But Reinecke shied away from one task — officiating as president of the state Senate. He wanted to get the formal

Aide To Ike To Play Big Nixon Role

WASHINGTON (UPI) — He's not back on a government payroll—yet—but economist Arthur F. Burns is already performing some major task for President Nixon.

The former Eisenhower administration official is slated to soon fill an undisclosed post in Washington.

At the moment, the 64-year-old Burns is working with the President and the heads of departments. He was on hand for yesterday's first cabinet meeting and was reportedly to have played a major role.

During the campaign, Burns headed up a task force of economists who provided candidate Nixon with the advice and position papers.

After the election, Burns was asked to take on enlarged responsibility. He accepted the job as a coordinator of the various task forces Nixon set up to help him approach the problems he would face as president.

Burns and his staff took the task force reports, "synthesized" them and presented them to the president-elect. Because of these duties, Burns was considered a "must" participant in the early days of the Nixon administration, especially in those areas of activity encompassing the Cabinet.

Speculation about what job Burns will fill leans toward a White House advisory post. But one Nixon source told newsmen not to be surprised if Burns ends up in an operating agency.

Rape Suspect's Work Praised; Wins Bail Cut

A San Francisco man accused of rape was praised yesterday for his work as program coordinator for the Mission Rebels, a San Francisco neighborhood youth group, and won a reduction in bail from $20,000 to $5,000.

Robert Lee Brown, 26, also faces charges of attempted rape with a deadly weapon and kidnapping.

Probation officers said yesterday that Brown's co-workers in the youth group spoke highly of him. They also said that Brown has a degree in psychology from the University of Hawaii.

He allegedly kidnapped a 21-year-old Berkeley woman in San Francisco, on Nov. 23, raped her in Marin and struck her with a gun butt near her left eye.

His preliminary hearing is scheduled for Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Unusual Sight - Whale In Bay

A large whale was sighted inside San Francisco Bay yesterday by Capt. Bob McKean of the Harbor Queen.

"It's very unusual to see one in the bay," he said. "I've been sailing out there for nearly 20 years and this was my first."

Crewman Ed Barret of the Harbor Prince, another bay sight-seeing craft, sighted the whale, that spouted several times, at 3 p.m.

McKean, who said the whale that came up twice about a half mile off Pier 29 in San Francisco "was heavy with barnacles, so I could tell it was older and big."

Plumbing Stolen

Plumbing fixtures valued at $100 were taken from a house under construction at 35 Canyon Oak Road, San Rafael, over the weekend. Claude E. Valencia, a plumber for Forman Plumbing Inc. of Petaluma, reported yesterday to police.

Library Friends Discuss Aims

A group of about nine residents of Corte Madera, Kentfield and Novato met at the Marin County Library at the Civic Center last night to discuss organization of a "friends of the library" group.

County Librarian Bruce Bajema reported today that groups will be formed in each of the three areas, where there are county library branches, to inform residents of library services, collect local history materials and to raise funds for purchase of books.

No officers were elected last night for the group, Bajema explained, as members prefer to maintain an informal organization with emphasis on local community action.

Education Structure Draws Finch Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An education system which keeps youngsters shielded from the real world until they are into their 20s may not be making the best use of those young people, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has suggested.

Finch, in his maiden speech as a cabinet officer, said yesterday the nation's educational system frequently frustrates young people by failing to recognize how intelligent they really are.

An example, he said, was television. He said the medium has taken most youngsters "right past Jack and Jill," but the educational system still reacts as though the youngsters' minds had never been expanded.

"Are we really making the best use of our young people when we have a system that keeps them, including military service, into their 20s before they encounter the real world?" Finch asked.

He described "an educational structure which is not responding sufficiently" and the lack of

Irish Anti-Papists Cause Uproar At London Church

LONDON (AP) — Protestant extremists repeatedly interrupted a Christian unity service last night by shouting anti-Vatican slogans during a Roman Catholic cardinal's address to 4,000 persons in St. Paul's Anglican Cathedral.

Outside the cathedral, counter demonstrators pelted Northern Ireland's leading Protestant extremist, the Rev. Ian Paisley, with eggs and tomatoes.

One Irish Protestant, the Rev. Thomas Foster, was charged with "indecent behavior" under a century-old law forbidding interruption of a church service. He was one of a dozen demonstrators—most of them in clerical garb—who were ejected from the service held as part of the worldwide Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

John Cardinal Heenan, head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Britain, had just been welcomed to the cathedral by the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, when Bible-waving extremists began shouting "No popery here!"

Ushers dashed from pew to pew, hustling demonstrators out of the church as they rose in sequence to rail against the Pope.

Cardinal Heenan, believed to be the first Roman Catholic cardinal ever to appear formally in the 17th Century cathedral, won applause from many of his listeners when he said the demonstration showed "the need for the ecumenical movement."

"Of course," he added, "I realize these are not members of your usual congregation."

Paisley stayed outside the cathedral and demonstrated with his supporters behind a ring of police guards.

"A great Protestant church is being desecrated by a Romanist," Paisley bellowed.

As the counterdemonstrators shouted "Paisley go home" and pelted him, he shouted: "The more of this the better. You see what kind of things papists do."

Paisley flew home to Belfast early today, his coat still stained with egg yolk and tomato.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Stiffness In Morning Common, Due To Nonarthritic Causes

J. R. writes: "Every morning my hands, wrists, elbows, and back are stiff. I suppose this is age or arthritis, but if this is true, why does it go away after being up and about?"

"My joints never hurt and there are no knobs like many of my arthritic friends complain about. Why does this stiffness develop?"

In the past, "rheumatics" and "old age" were blamed for this type of distress. After all, many oldsters and those with arthritis complain of stiffness on arising and after sitting in a chair for an hour or two. But there are other causes.

A Britisher, for example, noted that stiffness occurred with increased size of the hand caused by accumulation of fluid in the tissues. In addition, the hand was larger in the morning than in the evening.

Because this is a normal phenomenon, it would explain why stiffness is noted in the absence of arthritis. It also may explain why stiffness is more marked when arthritis coexists.

VAN DELLEN

Heat tends to relax the fibers; movement may improve the circulation and reduce the swelling in these tissues.

The individual with rheumatoid arthritis is most uncomfortable on first arising in the morning. It may take him 30 minutes to several hours to "limber up."

THE MAJORITY are at their best late in the morning or early in the afternoon. They may never be limber in the normal sense of the word and may have additional episodes of stiffening and aching after a nap or with fatigue in the late afternoon or evening.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BONES WASTING AWAY
P.M. writes: Could you please tell me the symptoms and name of the disease in which bones waste away in the lower back and the front? I understand the disorder is serious and would like to know more about it. Does the victim become a vegetable? What about cure and outcome?

REPLY
Osteoporosis is the most likely condition capable of causing these symptoms in a woman. Treatments include increasing the intake of calcium and the use of sex hormones. Exercise also is beneficial. Complete disability rarely occurs.

CURFEW FOR EXERCISE
D. J. S. writes: Does it make any difference at what time of day a person exercises? A physi-

THE CONNECTIVE tissues lining and surrounding the joints are elastic. Cold, age, and a sluggish circulation may reduce the elasticity.

ALBUMIN AND HEADACHE
A reader writes: Could albumin in the urine cause frequent headaches?

REPLY
Certain kidney disorders, such as Bright's disease, may cause headache. In this respect, the underlying cause, not the albumin, is responsible for the head pain.

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A San Anselmo man has been named business manager for the Pacific Division of United Press International.

James P. Buckner, 39, of 150 Woodside Drive, has been a regional business executive for Northern California-Nevada since 1963. He joined UPI as a newsmen in 1958.

Buckner succeeds Robert E. Crennen who was transferred to Dallas, Tex., as manager of UPI's Southwest Division, according to Richard A. Litfin, Pacific Division manager.

Named to succeed Buckner was Roy R. Davenport, 45, of 939 Vernal Avenue, Mill Valley.

Davenport, who has been with UPI since 1950, has been chief telephoto engineer for the Pacific Division for the past three years.

Notice to our readers

I-J obliged to limit use of I-J library

Increasing public calls upon the I-J Library require us to set new rules for its use by the general public. Especially since the Library is part of the editorial operation of the newspaper, set up for staff use.

NEW RULES NOW IN EFFECT:

- NO INFORMATION BY TELEPHONE. The librarians can no longer undertake to answer questions telephoned in by the public. It is suggested that specific queries be put in a letter, addressed to the I-J Library, 1040 B Street, San Rafael, with stamped reply envelope enclosed. Lengthy information or that requiring much research cannot be provided.
- NO SHOWING OF MICROFILMS OF OLD NEWSPAPERS. The same past issues of the Independent-Journal and its predecessors, the San Rafael Independent and the Marin Journal, are in the Marin County Library at Civic Center and in the San Rafael Public Library. We request that these public facilities be used by those wishing to look at films.
- CALLING IN PERSON AT I-J LIBRARY. Librarians will attempt to provide information for those calling in person, but inquirers are cautioned that this is not a public library and the time that can be devoted to outside inquiries is limited.

Road Projects
In Southern Sonoma Are Set

The state Department of Highways has listed several construction projects pending in the Southern Sonoma area.
Two projects in the Rohnert Park area awaiting funds are construction of two southbound ramps to Highway 101 opposite the recently completed northbound ramps at the Sonoma State College expressway and new drainage on Highway 101 between Gravenstein Highway and Todd Road.
Scheduled for completion soon is reconstruction of 10 miles of Highway 101 from Petaluma north to the Route 116 separation. The highway department said construction work by Reichold and Jurkovich is 98 per cent complete.

The project included replacing cracked slabs, placing under-drains and resurfacing portions of the roadway. The cost was $658,000.
The department said in a recent progress report that it plans this summer to place reflective markers on Highway 101 from the Marin to the Mendocino County line. The work will be financed by the highway safety program.

Royalty Is Becoming 'In' Thing

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — We now get not only "The Saint" and "The Avengers" from British television, but the royal family as well. As I was telling my butler the other day, democracy certainly is wonderful, isn't it?

Anyway, you may well remember the excellent documentary about old age that Lord Snowdon, husband of
graphed and presented on CBS-
TV some time ago.

And last night, Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth, turned up on the same network as the part-time narrator of a photographic essay entitled
"Voyage to the Enchanted Isles," an hour study of the Galapagos Islands.

The reason that Prince Philip was a part-time narrator, says CBS-TV, is that he has "taken a great personal interest in the Galapagos," and if that's good enough for CBS-TV, then it's good enough for me. Nice looking fellow he is, and he was a very creditable performer.

The Galapagos, situated in the Pacific Ocean about 600 miles west of Ecuador, are where Charles Darwin, then a 22-year-old naturalist, made the observations that became the basis for his theory of evolution.

The program went into some detail about how some of the creatures adapted to their environment—and the characteristics that got Darwin to thinking about evolution.
Said Prince Philip: "The thing that struck me most forcibly is the incredible, even touching tameness of the animals there. They are fearless of man because apparently the instinct of fear takes many thousands of years to develop.
It's to be hoped that in this one small corner of the earth the creatures of these enchanted isles need never develop the instinct of fear at all."

The top 10 television sponsors in 1968, in terms of network billings, were—according to the show business newspaper "Veritety"—Procter & Gamble, Bristol-Myers, R. J. Reynolds, Colgate-Palmolive, General Foods, American Home Products, General Motors, Sterling Drug Gillette and Warner-Lambert.

A Dozen Conventions
Now Shun Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The disturbances during the Democratic National Convention have cost Chicago 12 of the roughly 3,000 conventions expected here in the next three years, a city official reported today.
Alvin Monroe, account executive of the Chicago Convention Bureau, said the cancellations came after the police and anti-war protesters battled in the streets during the week of Aug.
25, 1968.

Stork's Wearing Fireman's Hat

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Smith of San Jose didn't quite make it to the hospital last night. But they did make it to a fire station.
Firemen were alarmed when Smith, 31, almost kicked down the station door seeking help.
Fire Capt. George Luccesi came to the rescue and delivered Mrs. Smith's 6-pound girl in the front seat of the Smith car.
Mrs. Smith and her baby girl were reported in good condition at Good Samaritan Hospital.

MEADERS has it when it comes to cleaning and blocking your fine knits. You'll never have to worry that they'll shrink or stretch... Meaders' careful measuring and expert blocking just won't let it happen. (And if you're not satisfied with the present fit of your knit, ask Meaders to take your measurements and block the garment to your exact size.)

Children-Families Top Housing List

The new countywide interfaith association dedicated to sponsoring housing for low and moderate income families and elderly persons agreed last night its first priority would be housing for families with children.

Rehabilitation of existing housing will be sought for the first implementation of the organization's objectives, Martin Mackey, secretary-treasurer reported.

The group, the Ecumenical Association for Housing — Marin County, plans to obtain financing through the 1968 Housing Act following feasibility studies to be conducted in the next few months, Mackey said.

The association was formed last month with nine groups pledging the required $200 membership fee. Since then, nine more groups have joined, including three since the last meeting.

The newest members are People Against Racism, Sausalito; St. Isabella's Church of Terra Linda and St. Stephen's Church of Belvedere, Mackey reported.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 19 at the Civic Center.

Novato Police Chief On Committee Again

Novato Police Chief Robert Di Grazia was named yesterday to the public relations committee of the International Association of Chiefs of Police by its president Thomas J. Cahill of San Francisco.

This is Di Grazia's third year on the committee.

Marinwood Staff Gets New Holiday

Employees of the Marinwood Community Services District will get eight holidays a year instead of seven, district directors decided last night.

Lincoln's Birthday was added to the present seven — New Year's, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The directors also appointed Kenneth R. Katz of Greenberry Lane to the fire commission and Richard H. O'Brien of Appleberry Lane to the parks and recreation commission, with Mrs. Gracie Jones of Blackberry Lane as alternate.

Larry D. Newman, chairman of the fire commission, who resigned last month, said he had changed his mind and would continue to serve.

The Marinwood Community Services District board also:

TENNIS COURTS — Awarded a $1,647 contract to Malott and Peterson-Grundy of San Francisco to resurface two tennis courts.

PURCHASE — Appropriated $135 for a new lawn edger and $150 to replace damaged trees.

CULVERT — Approved extending a culvert and filling a ditch beyond the tennis court, behind homes on Quietwood Drive, at a cost of $750 to $800.

FIRE CHIEF — Heard from Lawrence B. Malkin that his screening committee was interviewing candidates for fire chief and would ask for a special meeting of the district board next month to pick a chief.

Mill Valley Man Is Found Dead

A Mill Valley man, found unconscious in his car in a Cotati parking lot yesterday, died later at Santa Rosa hospital.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said Gustav Persson, 55, of 141 La Goma Avenue, was found by Cotati police with sleeping pills on his lap and on the car floor. Johansen reported that Persson's wife, Helen, said her husband had been despondent over losing his job as a chef in a Larkspur restaurant.

He is also survived by a daughter, Karen Veideland of San Rafael.

Arrangements are pending at Lafferty and Smith Colonial Chapel, Santa Rosa.

McLain Named Athlete Of Year In AP Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, the flamboyant Detroit pitcher who is equally at home standing on a mound or sitting at an organ, was named today Male Athlete of the Year in the 38th annual Associated Press poll.

Continuing recent domination by baseball players of the year-end award, McLain became the fourth in succession and the seventh in the last eight polls to find himself sitting on top of the sports world.

In those eight years only Don Schollander, the swimming star of America's 1964 Olympic team, has managed to break baseball's hold on the award.

But no Olympian from the 1968 U.S. team or such an outstanding college football player as O.J. Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, was able to overshadow McLain's exploits both on and off the field during the 1968 season.

der conducted a delicate balancing act during the entire season, pitching baseballs with one hand and playing the organ with two. He received acclaim for the former, notoriety for the latter and money for both.

And, when the season had ended, McLain had posted 31 victories—becoming the first pitcher to reach the 30-victory plateau since Dizzy Dean in 1934—and was on his way to a Las Vegas opening dressed in mink.

In the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters, McLain was rewarded with 108 first-place votes and amassed a total of 517 points on the basis of three points for first place, two for second and one for third.

Only three other athletes received more than 200 points—Simpson, pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, the only pro football player able to crack the Top Ten.

The poll, however, was taken before the Super Bowl game, which will become a part of the 1969 voting, and therefore does not reflect the stunning upset pulled off by quarterback Joe Namath in leading the New York Jets to a 16-7 victory over the Colts.

Simpson, the workhorse running back who almost certainly will be selected by the Buffalo Bills as the No. 1 pick in next week's pro football draft, was the runner-up in the voting with

Gibson, despite beating McLain in two World Series confrontations, finished a distant third with 57 firsts and 302 points. Morrall, who led the Colts to the National Football League championship in place of injured Johnny Unitas, received 39 first and 240 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were discus thrower Al Oerter, 180 points; long jumper Bob Beamon, 111; skier Jean Claude Killy, 64, and golfer Billy Cas-

Namath, who led the Jets to the American Football League championship, received four first-place votes and 29 points.

Baseball's domination of the poll began in 1961 with Roger Maris. Maury Wills and Sandy Koufax then made it three in a row for the sport before Schollander broke the hold. Koufax, Frank Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski and McLain now have made baseball the first sport to ever have four consecutive winners.

Marin County To Get
Its Own Hall Of Fame

IT'S ABOUT TIME — Three cheers and a hip-hip hooray for the Knights of Columbus of Southern Marin County.

On Jan. 31, at their fourth annual Marin County Hot Stove League in Mill Valley, the Knights will inaugurate a Marin County Hall of Fame, honoring native sons and those who attended school here and later went on to athletic stardom.

Charter members of the "Hall," according to chairman Phil Byrne, will be Walter "The Great" Mills, Tony Freitas, Sam Chapman and Charlie Wensloff of baseball fame and Perry Schwartz of football.

Actually Chapman qualifies under football as well as baseball for he won All-America honors as a halfback at California in 1937 before he went on to major league stardom with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics.

Ending Sentence As A Pro

Mills, the Mighty Mouth of the San Francisco Giants' speakers bureau, was born and raised at San Quentin, later becoming a big league pitcher, thereby ending his sentence with a pro position.

The Hall of Fame inauguration will be held at Mt. Carmel School Auditorium starting at 8 p.m. on the 31st. It is hoped that all the inductees will be present.

Next year, said chairman Byrne, younger men like former major leaguers Art Schallcock and Joe DeMaestri will be inducted into the Hall. Schallcock, a southpaw pitcher, and DeMaestri, a shortstop, both played for the New York Yankees.

Congratulations to the Knights for paying lasting tribute to men who have magnificently represented Marin County in the world of sports.

That Trevino's A Card

QUICK QUIP — Quote of the week was uttered by National Open champion Lee Trevino after sloshing around the rain-soaked Kaiser International Golf Tournament at Napa last Saturday: "I had no trouble putting after I got myself a tide chart."

SONOMA STATE College's brand new gymnasium is expected to be completed by April 20, according to the latest word from the contractors, Christianson and Foster Co. of Santa Rosa. The new gym will seat 3,200. Meanwhile, the Sonoma Cossacks are playing their home basketball schedule at Rancho Cotate High School in Rohnert Park. (I guess they're called the Cossacks because the school is near the Russian River.)

Commuting To Sonoma State

Speaking of SSC, Dave Distel of Mill Valley is a member of the Cossack freshman basketball team and Tim Elliot of Terra Linda, Charles Radda of San Rafael and Jim Naugle and Martin McKeay of Novato are varsity wrestlers.

SEARS POINT International Raceway at the intersection of Highways 37 and 121 in southern Sonoma County will definitely be in full operation in March. The Sports Car Club of America has its Nationals scheduled March 29-30. In all, the SCCA has five events reserved at Sears during 1969.

SCCA Regional Executive Bob Tomlin said the new Sears raceway is "... a very challenging course, giving both car and driver a real workout. Quite a contrast to some of the 'flatout' courses found in other parts of the country."

U.S. Women Skiers In 'Best Ever' Form

ST. GERVAIS, France (AP)—The young United States squad scored the best ever cup team performance in special slalom race today by placing seven skiers in the top 15.

But Ingrid Lafforgue and Annie Famose scored a double triumph for France.

Ingrid, 20, a fine all-around skier from the Pyrenees, grabbed her first big victory of the season with a total time of 79.31 seconds for the two parallel legs of the slalom.

Veteran Olympic bronze medalist Annie Famose, 23, also from the Pyrenees, was right behind her in 79.58.

Then came a stream of U.S. talent in five of the first 10 placings.

Umpire Of Year

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Scory, veteran National League umpire, has been named by the Houston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America to receive the Bill Klem Award as Umpire of the Year.

Judy Nagel, 17, Enumclaw Wash., was third in 79.93, less than one tenth of a second in front of her elder sister Cathy, 20, in 80.02.

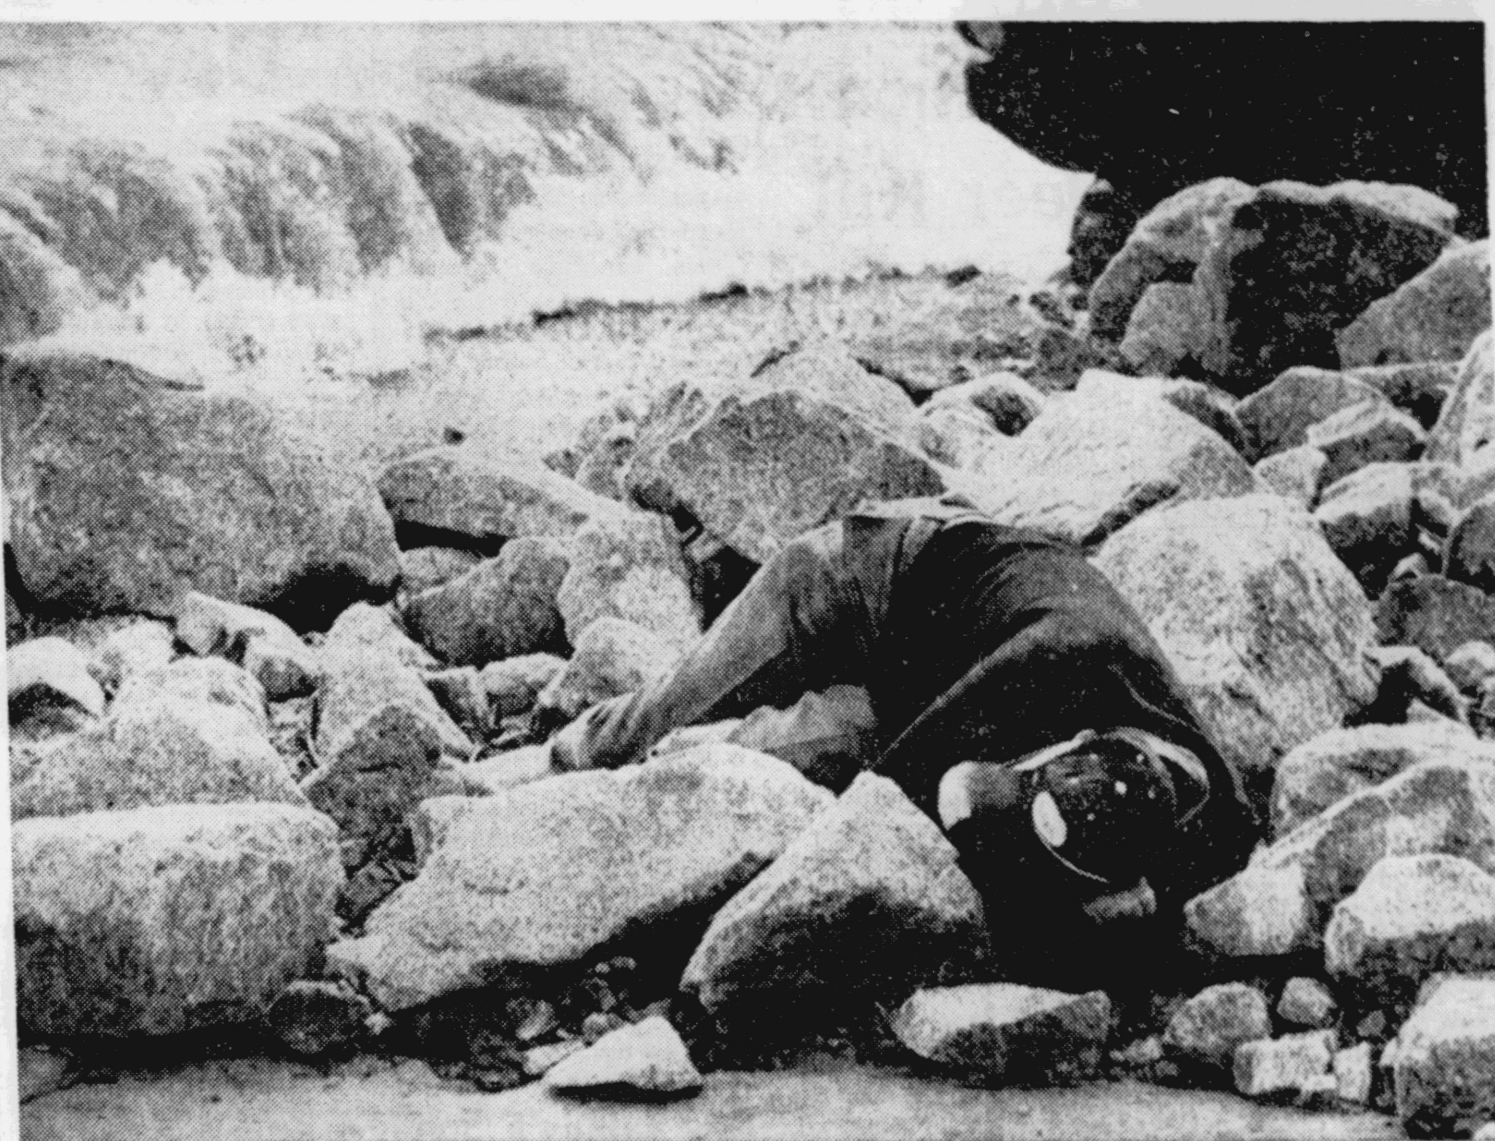

Barbara Cochran, 18, Richmond, Va., was fifth in 80.23, Kiki Cutter, 19, Bend, Ore., seventh in 80.58, and Erica Skinger, 18, Stowe, Vt., 10th in 81.10.

Other top U.S. placings were Penny Northrup, 17, Ellicottville, N.Y., 12th in 81.78, and Rosie Fortna, 22, Warren, Vt., 14th in 82.34.

Marilyn Cochran, 19, Barbara's sister, Penny McCoy, 19, Bishop, Calif., and Karen Budge, Jackson, Wyo., were disqualified for missing gates and Anne Black, 19, Seattle Wash., quit after a fall.

In the battle for the world cup, Annie Famose has now joined Austria's Gertrud Gabl at the top of the standings, both with 92 points.

Rosi Mittermaier of West Germany kept third spot with 71, but Kiki Cutter is right behind her with 63. Judy Nagel is sixth with 49 points.

Gimeno Whips Buchholz

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Spanish tennis professional Andres Gimeno easily defeated Earl Buchholz of St. Louis 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 in the quarterfinals of the Australian Open Championships at Milton today.

The Spaniard now is favored to defeat Australian Ray Ruffels in the semifinals to be played Saturday for a probable clash in the final with pro champion Rod Laver of Australia, the top seed.

Gimeno's big service and sharp volleying on the heavy center court paved the way to his 62-minute victory.

On today's form, he should easily defeat Ruffels in the semifinal.

Ruffels today defeated his davis cup teammate Bill Bowrey 9-11, 2-6, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4 after a three-hour and 15-minute battle.

Ruffels won the hard way and after two sets looked certain to be defeated. But he fought back strongly and won 12 of the last 18 games.

Laver met tough resistance from fellow Australian Fred Stolle in another quarter-final but won 6-4, 18-16, 6-4 in three hours of play in humid heat.

Stolle's strong first service had Laver under pressure in a long second set and Stolle seemed unlikely to lose it. In the 28th game Stolle had three set points on Laver's service but the left-hander fought back with brilliant placements to level 14-14.

At this stage, Laver's service suffered a severe lapse and he had to reduce speed to get the ball into play.

But as the set ended he was right again, hitting winners with brilliant ground strokes and overhead smashes. Stolle fought all the way but Laver always was ahead in the third set.

The other quarterfinal match is being played under the lights tonight between Australians Tony Roche and John Newcombe.

In the women's doubles, second round, Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosie Casals of San Francisco defeated Australians Gail Chantreau and Helen Amos 6-4, 6-1.

TWO FOR ONE

Astros Give Up Leading Hitter

HOUSTON (AP) — When the Houston Astros finished in the National League cellar last season General Manager H. B. "Spec" Richardson said there were "no untouchables" on the squad.

He proved it yesterday when he announced that Rusty Staub, the Astros' top hitter, had been traded to the new National League Montreal club for first baseman Donn Clendenon and outfielder Jesus Alou.

Clendenon and Alou were the third and fourth major league players to be acquired in trades by Houston since the end of the 1968 season. Previously acquired were catcher John Edwards from the St. Louis Cardinals and Curt Blefary from the Baltimore Orioles.

Richardson said there could be even more trades.

The popular Staub, one of Houston's first big bonus players in 1961, hit .291 last season. He finished with a .333 average in 1967 after leading the National League for a good portion of the season.

The 24-year-old redhead, who plays both first base and right field, had a .273 lifetime batting average in six seasons.

Alou and Clendenon went to Montreal in the recent expansion draft. Alou from the San Francisco Giants and Clendenon from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Alou, 25, hit .263 with the Giants. Clendenon, 33, hit .257 for the Pirates.

Both Alou and Clendenon have lifetime batting averages of .280, and are right-handed hitters.

Only Two Goalies Allowed In NHL

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League has decided that three goalies are a crowd ... and decreed that NHL clubs must make do with two.

League President Clarence Campbell said yesterday that effective immediately no club will be permitted to use three different goaltenders in one game.

Oaks' Win Streak Snapped

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Bill Sharman was playing with the Boston Celtics in the late 1950s, the Celtics won 17 straight professional basketball games, a record which still stands.

The Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association had won 16 straight pro games and threatened to tie the Celtics' mark but Sharman's Los Angeles Stars halted that streak last night.

The Stars' George Stone took a 22-foot jump shot with just one second to play and Los Angeles earned a 123-121 ABA triumph.

TIME OUT

As Stone was taking the winning shot, Coach Sharman was pleading with his team to call time out.

During the foul-marred game, rookie Warren Armstrong of the Oaks was tossed out of the game after he knocked Star Jim Jarvis to the floor and stepped on his face. Armstrong later said it was an accident and planned to make a public apology.

Stone got 31 points to lead all scorers and Doug Moe scored 30 for the losers.

CROSBY PRO-AM

Think Sun, Reads Sign

PEBBLE BEACH (AP)—Think Sun read the big sign at the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament.

A bulky field of 137 pros and an equal number of amateurs began four days of play over three courses with the weatherman saying it would be cloudy with rain likely in the afternoon, southerly winds 20-25 miles per hour and temperatures in the 50s. No rain was forecast for tomorrow.

This picturesque Monterey Peninsula has been drenched with rain the past several days leaving the Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill courses heavy and probably unplayable.

WIND

Defending champion Johnny Pott of Gulf Hills, Miss., sees the wind off the Pacific Ocean providing a greater hazard than the wetness.

After shooting two-under par 70 during yesterday's practice round at Pebble Beach, Pott commented, "The course played longer but there was no wind blowing. You won't find windless conditions every day of this tournament."

Pott not only won the individual pro title last year but also teamed with New York financier Virgil Sherrill, a World War II flying ace, to capture the pro-amateur crown.

Pott carded a 73, incidentally, on his final round at Pebble last year for his 285 total, three-under-par for the 72-hole distance.

Crosby's tournament, dubbed a clambake back when a much smaller group combined golf with social activities, officially is known as the national pro-amateur.

Of the $150,000 total purse, $125,000 is divided among the leading pros with $25,000 going to the pros on the top pro-amateur teams, and they figure in the amateur's handicap in counting the best-ball scores.

Celebrities from fields of entertainment, business, sports and the professions are numbered among the players.

Don Cherry has Dean Martin as a partner, Bert Yancey plays with Andy Williams, Bob Rosburg with John Brodie, Ken Still with Don Drysdale, and Dave Stockton with Leonard Firestone.

Each team plays each of the three courses during the first three days before the field is cut for Sunday's final round at Pebble Beach.

NICKLAUS

Jack Nicklaus plays his first tournament of 1969 at the Crosby and quipped that maybe his luck would be better at Las Vegas. The fourth Nicklaus youngster, Gary Thomas, was born last Wednesday weighing seven pounds, 11 ounces, and 7-11 are winning numbers in Nevada.

Big Jack didn't keep score for his round at Pebble Beach but said, "The course was in much better shape than I had expected."

Not happy with slow starts in 1967 and 1968, Nicklaus said he plans to enter more tournaments prior to the Masters this time around.

Nicklaus won the Crosby in 1967 but then went into a slump.

Missing from the entry list were Julius Boros, the PGA champion of last season, and Charlie Sifford, the leading money winner so far this young year.

TWO OUT

Boros hasn't been playing this early in the year and Sifford fell victim to the flu after winning the Los Angeles Open two weeks ago.

Because of the soggy, soggy, Professional Golfers' Association made special rules for the first three rounds.

On all three courses the fairways on par 4 and 5 holes, in special areas, the golfers are allowed to pick up and clean the ball.

If conditions improve by Sunday, the regular rules could be in effect for the 18-hole finals. By that time, hopefully, even the water in the trap at Pebble's 18th will have evaporated.

Seals On Road Vs. Canadiens

MONTREAL (AP) — The Oakland Seals, the most discussed team in the National Hockey League, return to trying to catch the West Division-leading St. Louis Blues tonight when they play the Montreal Canadiens.

The Seals, not supported by attendance at home, sat around here this week while the NHL owners discussed their fate prior to the all-star game.

The owners took no action on proposals for moves to Buffalo or Vancouver, B.C., and resolved to untangle the confused ownership status.

Puck, Inc., owns the franchise but the San Francisco Seals, Inc.—Barry Van Gerbig and 40 others — owns the players and the Oakland Arena lease.

DOWN 'N' OUT — Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster knocked down challenger Frank DePaula three times in the first round for a technical knockout victory in their scheduled 15-round title fight in New York's Madison Square Garden last night. (UPI Telephoto)

Foster Retains His Title With Quick TKO Over Foe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Foster isn't satisfied, although he knocked down Frank DePaula three times in the first round for a technical knockout last night in his first light heavyweight defense.

To the near-sellout crowd of 16,129 at Madison Square Garden it might have seemed an easy night's work. Foster was knocked down in the first minute of the round, but recovered to floor the challenger three times for a technical knockout with only 2:17 gone in their scheduled 15-round bout.

The 30-year-old champion had nothing but complaints after the victory despite the fact he was: Unmarked, breathing easily, earned over $76,000, retained his title and scored one of the fastest kayos ever recorded in a light heavy title bout.

"I don't think this was an easy fight at all," the 6-foot-4 Foster complained. "I've had easier fights. The one with Henry Hank was easier and it went 12 rounds. This guy was trying to take me out."

NOT ENOUGH MONEY
Although he earned $554.80 per second, he didn't think it was enough after a long, unprofitable career.

"(Dick) Tiger got a $100,000 when I knocked him out last May to win the title," said Foster, who weighed 171½ pounds to 170 for DePaula. "I'm already looking for my next payday."

A flurry of punches had DePaula groggy seconds later and he went down from a right lead to the temple. Jumping up quickly, DePaula rushed at the champion as soon as the mandatory eight count was tolled by referee Johnny Lobacio.

SCORED TKO
Foster connected with another flurry and DePaula went down the second time, obviously shaken as well as surprised since he had a reputation for having an iron chin. Foster then measured the Jersey City

City Hall Tribute To Joe, Mates

NEW YORK (AP) — Was the Super Bowl Joe Namath's super farewell to professional football?

The brilliant quarterback, who predicted that the New York Jets would beat the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl and made good his boasts, wasn't talking yesterday — at least on that topic.

"I'm very happy with my life as it is right now," Namath said at a City Hall tribute to the Jets. But he also said: "Jimmy Brown got out while he was still healthy," referring to the Cleveland Browns' star fullback who retired at the peak of his career to become a movie actor. "You want to make it while you're on top—before you get destroyed."

Namath's knees, operated on several times, are a prime source of concern.

The quarterback currently has several business ventures going, including a New York night spot and string of drive-in restaurants. Namath said he has received a number of other offers—some in the show business field—since the Super Bowl and said he would evaluate the situation after returning from a USO-sponsored tour of Far East military installations. He leaves today.

At the City Hall ceremonies, attended by more than 5,000 persons, Namath paid tribute to his teammates, some 15 of whom were in attendance.

"I've been reading about everything I did," he said, "and I did play good. But if it wasn't for these fellows, where would I be? Everything's a team thing. Believe that, it's a 40-50-man thing."

Namath was asked if his statements before the Super Bowl lauding the Jets and rapping Baltimore quarterback

Earl Morrall constituted premeditated psychology.

"I didn't say what I said before the game to give them (the Jets) confidence," he replied. "They had confidence because they knew they were the best. We all felt we could win the game. If I wanted to, I would have given you an answer already," he hedged.

Later, Namath was awarded a car as the most valuable player in the Super Bowl.

Officials Question Deer Kill

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

California's regulation which allowed its deer hunters to validate their own tags after killing a buck the last two seasons has been pretty much of a flop.

And the Fish and Game Department will probably ask the Commission to go back to the pre-1967 set up when a hunter had to have his kill validated by certain specified civil agencies and employees. Or dump the validation system entirely as a method of determining hunter success.

IMPROVEMENT

The official 1968 buck deer tag tally came to 51,706, a whopping 29 per cent improvement over the previous year . . . but still indicating that only one out of about every nine hunters was successful.

However, after extensive checks on food locker plants throughout the state and questionnaires mailed to hunters, fish and game officials now reckon that the actual kill by licensed hunters may have run twice as high as tag returns indicated.

From all the evidence at hand California riflemen are just not living up to their responsibilities in this respect.

ROAD KILLS

Another indication that deer may not be as scarce as California's recent, incomplete records would indicate is that the number of recorded road kills this past year was a record shattering 8,517 animals, far in excess of any comparable period since records were kept.

At the moment, the Fish and Game Department is leaning towards questionnaires as the best method of obtaining an accurate deer kill tally.

CANDLESTICK ARCHITECT WAITS WORD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Construction will begin on an expanded Candlestick Park as soon as some responsible person or group gives the final go-ahead, according to architect John Bolles.

"I thought we were all ready a year ago," said Bolles to a luncheon yesterday. "and we had done about $40,000 or $50,000 worth of work before I found out otherwise." The city's board of supervisors has approved work at a cost of $9.1 million, which Bolles said is sufficient. However, Bolles said, "the clerk of the board hasn't notified our office . . ."

Bolles said that the expanded setup will provide 64,000 seats for football, 62,500 for baseball and would be the best combination stadium in the country in terms of proximity to the field and number of good seats.

The $9.1 million estimate includes some $800,000 for artificial turf.

Ray Lunny's Son In Golden Gloves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ray Lunny, 17, son of the longtime boxing coach at Stanford University, will seek the bantamweight title in the regional Golden Gloves tournament which opens Feb. 7 at Winterland.

Tourney director Al Sandell expects more than 100 boxers to register for the event which also will run on the nights of Feb. 11 and 14.

Lunny, a high school student in Redwood City, won the Western Regional Olympic Games trial here last year at 112 pounds but has been forced to box in a heavier division after gaining a few pounds.

GOLF COMMISSIONER

Dey To Head Pro Tour

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe C. Dey Jr. presented the perfect image for both sides today as the first commissioner of the Tournament Players Division of the Professional Golfers Association (PGA), of America.

Dey announced his resignation yesterday as executive director of the United States Golf Association (USGA) after 35 years at the post to "serve golf at a significant time in another era."

The post was created after the PGA and a splinter group solved their differences following a brief fall-out among professional golfers. Dey was a unanimous choice to take over the job as chief executive and administrative officer.

"I think Dey will do a tremendous job," said Jack Nicklaus from Pebble Beach, of the appointment.

"Dey should add to the image of the game," added Miller Barber. "He is very capable."

Billy Casper said golf "needed someone with his stature and respect" and Arnold Palmer chimed in that Dey was one of the "best liked men in golf."

Dey's appointment was announced yesterday by J. Paul Austin, chairman of the tournament policy board. The start of his five-year term will be determined with the cooperation of the USGA.

The Tournament Policy Board, which has complete and final responsibility for prescribing and directing policies relating to the PGA tour, controls the Tournament Players division. Dey will be in charge of all matters relating to the pro tour.

El Cerrito Man Has Slim Lead In Bowl Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mike McGrath, 22, of El Cerrito, took a four-pin lead into today's round of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Showboat Invitational after a score of 2748 for the first 12 games.

Skee Foremsky of El Paso, Tex., gave McGrath the most competition yesterday with his 2744. Ed Bourdase of Fresno came in third with 2695.

The first day's action was highlighted by a 300-game by Dave Muniain of Monterey, and a 298 by Rod Pardey, Tacoma, Wash.

The field of 144 goes another six games today and the top 72 will roll for the 16 top places in tomorrow's semifinals.

On Saturday five bowlers will be shooting for the $10,000 first prize.

Pineda Back In Running

ARCADIA (AP) — In one swoop, Alvaro Pineda has vaulted back into the riding race at Santa Anita Park.

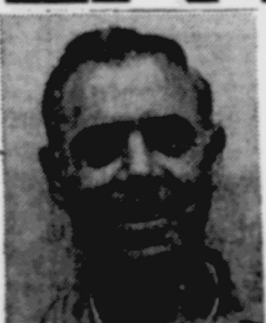

Pineda has been runner up the last two years for the national title. Yesterday he rode four winners for Santa Anita's first quadruple of the year. One of the winners was Gay Pursuit in the $10,000 feature.

Pineda upped his total winners to 19, tied with Don Pierce for second back of the 21 of Laffit Pincay Jr.

Athletics Vs. Giants In '69 World Series?

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Would you believe the Oakland Athletics and the San Francisco Giants have a good chance of meeting in the World Series next fall?

It could happen under the new major league baseball setup. Oakland, moved by Charley Finley from Kansas City, last season finished sixth in the American League. But their 82-80 won-lost record would be good enough to top the Western Division in the American League for 1969 and get the Athletics into a playoff with say Detroit for the right to face the National League playoff winner.

WIDE GAP

Oakland finished 21 games behind Detroit last season but the Athletics finished three games ahead of Minnesota's Twins and 15 games ahead of the California Angels and the Chicago White Sox, teams they will meet 18 times this year. They will also play 18 games with the new Kansas City Royals and the Seattle Pilots, expansion teams the American League hesitatingly placed in the same Western Division.

The American League's Eastern Division contains the first five finishers of last season, plus the 10th place Washington Senators. No longer will there be a 10th place, or even a seventh place team under the new alignment.

FIVE GAMES

If Detroit, which beat Baltimore by 12 games last season and then turned back the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series, wins in the East the Tigers would play a five-game series with the West winner for the right to face the National League playoff winner in the 1969 classic.

St. Louis will be favored to get into the National League playoff as the Eastern Division champion because the Cardinals finished nine games ahead of San Francisco, now in the Western Division, and 13 ahead of the Chicago Cubs. Under the 1969 setup the Cubs could be the East runnerup with 84 wins and 78 setbacks. The other East teams are Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, the New York Mets and the expansionist Montreal Expos.

SEPARATE

While the National League was forced to expand against its wishes, the senior circuit at least placed its two new teams — Montreal and the San Diego Padres — in different divisions.

The new setup is a complete break with baseball tradition. Eastern teams in each league will play 18 games against each other. They will face Western Division teams only 12 times.

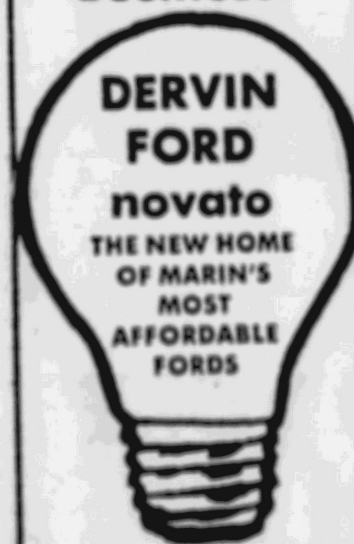

In other words, with both leagues expanding from 10 to 12 clubs, a team will play a total of 90 games against teams in its own division and a total of 72 games with teams in the other division. It's still a schedule of 162 games, but the season will be longer because of the two five-game playoffs in each league.

The long baseball season has pro football worried because almost half of the NFL or AFL teams play their home games in stadiums used for baseball.

49er Officials Getting Ready For The Draft

A total of 442 college football players will be selected by 26 professional teams (10 American Football League and 16 National Football League) in a 17-round draft meeting that opens at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Belmont Plaza Hotel, New York City.

It will be 7 a.m. on the west coast when the draft begins. Because of the early hour, 49er officials plan to stay overnight in a Redwood City motel. That will permit them to be at their control point when the draft begins. They will conduct their draft this year from 49er training camp headquarters in Redwood City.

"THIS IS something of a departure from past years when we conducted our draft from our San Francisco offices," said Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers.

In this age of instantaneous data processing by mechanical monsters with fantastic electronic memories, the 49ers and other pro football teams have complete dossiers on virtually all promising college players in the country at fingertip command.

THERE WAS A time when a scout might keep a sleeper hidden, such as Clark Shaughnessy spotted Harlan Hill, a great end, at Florence State Teachers College in the deep south. The 49ers never will forget Hill. He caught four touchdown passes against them one Sunday afternoon in Kezar, the final one in the last five seconds of the game for a Bear victory.

Sleepers today are still possible but highly unlikely because pro teams have bird dogs on just about every college campus where football is played. Usually, the bird dogs are assistant coaches. Occasionally, they are head coaches.

PRO DRAFTS, particularly in the early rounds, used to drag on interminably. Before announcing selections, teams first made certain they could sign their draftees. When the AFL and NFL battled each other fiercely for the top stars, such caution was understandable.

Now, the leagues no longer raid each other for talent. Indeed, they had no trouble whatsoever in agreeing on a draft sequence for the 26 teams. The won-lost percentage ratings of the combined 1968 standings of both leagues determined draft positions.

The New York Jets, victors in the AFL-NFL Super Bowl, will draft last. Baltimore, loser to the Jets, drafts next to last.

BUFFALO OF the AFL will pick first. Coin flips involving 10 teams were necessary to determine the remaining order of the draft. The 49ers pick No. 16 but on the first round will have two selections, one in the No. 7 position as a result of getting New Orleans' first round choice in the Dave Parks deal.

Even though Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner, has put a 15-minute time limit for each selection in the first two rounds and a five-minute limit per selection thereafter, the draft will take two days.

Athens Indoor Track Meet Tomorrow

OAKLAND (UPI) — To double Olympic gold medalist Lee Evans and premier Australian distance runner Ron Clarke, vengeance would be sweeter than victory in tomorrow night's Athens Invitational track meet.

They could accomplish both by beating world record holders Martin McGrady of Akron, Ohio, and Tracy Smith of the U. S. Army.

300 ATHLETES

Nearly 300 men and women athletes from the high school ranks through the open events will be on hand at the Oakland Coliseum Arena to close out the 1969 indoor track season in Northern California. Action starts at 7:30 p.m.

Evans and McGrady, world record holder at 600 yards, top a star-studded field in the 500-yard run. Others include arena record holder Jim Kemp of the Army, 400-meter Olympic hurdler Ron Whitney, Paddy McCrory and Steve Pancost.

Last year, McGrady came from behind to edge Evans and Kemp for the 600-yard AAU indoor title at the arena. Evans, world's fastest at 400 meters, appears to have the advantage tonight because of the shorter distance.

FIVE RECORDS

Smith raced to a 13:16.2 clocking in 1967 to take the world indoor three-mile mark away from Clarke who still holds five world records.

SHOT PUT

In the shot put, Neil Steinhauer and George Woods both will be aiming for Steinhauer's world indoor mark of 67-10. Both have thrown farther outdoors.

Challenging Olympic champion Dick Fosbury in the high jump will be Otis Burrell, holder of the meet mark of 7-2, Rick Sloan, Ron Tull and Steve Kelly.

King Says He's Going To Stress Giants' Hitting

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Clyde King, new manager of the San Francisco Giants, agrees that pitchers dominate baseball.

However, he says he intends to do something about bringing more balance into the game.

"The pitchers are dominant because they get more intense individual instruction," King, a former pitcher, told the Raleigh Sports Club yesterday. "If hitting got the same attention, I believe it would come back."

With San Francisco, he plans to put the emphasis on hitting. "On a long road trip, your hitters ordinarily get only a minute or two of batting practice a day," he said. "At San Francisco this season, we're going to have extra hitting every day. We'll go out in the morning and let them hit as long as they want."

"We're also going to give our pitchers two days in a row of batting practice, rather than just let them hit the day they pitch."

HE SHALL RETURN

Gale Sayers, Chicago Bears sensation runner, exercises daily with weights on a "knee machine" in an attempt to rebuild his injured knee. That's his daughter peering around the corner making sure he keeps up the routine. The injury to his right knee occurred in a game with the San Francisco 49ers Nov. 20. Sayers vows to return to action next season. (UPI Telephoto)

FOOTBALL-BASKETBALL

Drake High's Carl Brown Is A Double-Duty Coach

By GARY TISCHLER

(Third in a series on Marin County Athletic League basketball coaches.)

Carl Brown, Sir Francis Drake High School's veteran basketball mentor, is a little unique among cage coaches — a man who gets more excited at football games, a proven winner with a losing team.

Brown, a kind of super-assistant coach with the San Anselmo school's football team, had two straight Marin County Athletic League title teams and Tournament of Champions entrants before coming up with a losing team last year and a team that has won only one game in pre-league play this year.

LOW PRESSURE

But win or lose, it is more or less all the same to Brown, who goes along with the old adage that what matters is how you play the game.

"I don't think a coach should feel it's all that important to win," he said. "If his players performed as well as they're capable of performing, well, that's all that matters. Of course, it's difficult to make the players feel that way. They have to have something to show for their efforts."

Brown's football-basketball transition runs together, so that many times his cage teams have a tendency to start slowly. And he has a chance to see the different approaches in coaching to the two very different sports.

CONTROL

"I think you have a lot more control over the game in football," he said. "You can call plays, you can get an idea of how the game is going. In basketball, which is so much a matter of momentum, you can fall 10 points behind before you know what happened."

"It's different for the kids, too. In basketball, you can always have somebody help out and you free-lance quite a bit. In football, a player does his particular job, regardless of what the others do."

FUNDAMENTALS

Brown stresses fundamental techniques heavily — shooting, defense, base-line guarding.

"I spend most of the early part of the year teaching technique," he said. "They should come automatically to a boy. That's the important thing."

Brown's teams tend to have a certain quality about them, a kind of controlled gutsiness and that quality is most in evidence when there's some big boys around.

"I like to have a controlled game," he said. "Naturally, it always helps to have big boys."

In the most recent title years, Brown had big boys, five or six players to mold into a team. Two years ago, the driving force was 6-6 Jerry Sprout and a five-man unit that played 90 per cent of the time.

Short or fast, big or slow, Brown sets certain rules that go with playing basketball at Drake High School. Such as decent haircuts, being on time to practice, not missing practice, no smoking or drinking.

"If a boy is late to practice, he doesn't play in the next game," he explained. "If he misses practice without a good reason, he's cut from the team. They all know that when they come out."

"We didn't have that kind of thing last year," he said. "This year we intend to run quite a bit. I don't think a coach ought to stick to a preconceived style of play that he likes best. You take the kind of offense that suits your material."

Federal-State Clash Delays Novato Study

Official confirmation of Novato's downtown $31,200 study grant — announced last week in Washington by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District — has been delayed by federal-state disagreement, it was learned today.

The problem, according to Larry Harmon of the San Francisco regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, source of the grant, is that HUD doubts that the state has sufficient planning staff to handle 701 grants, such as Novato's.

Harmon said, however, that the problem is being ironed out in discussion with Phillip Simpson, executive secretary of the state Council on Intergovernmental Relations.

Simpson said a meeting was held yesterday with Gov. Ronald

Novato Fire Losses, Calls Hit Record

Novato Fire District had the largest fire loss in its history last year, $362,000, and a record number of fire calls, 729.

The major loss, $230,000, resulted from a fire which destroyed 43 unfinished apartment units on Los Robles Road last September, reported Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The previous high for losses was $141,340 in 1961, and the 1967 loss was $86,270, the chief noted.

There also was a record number of fires caused by cigarettes and children, listed as the two major causes of fires, the chief said.

Last year children started 83 fires as compared to 61 the year before and cigarettes were blamed for 56 fires last year as compared to 35 the year before.

The previous high on fire calls was 686 in 1966, and there were 644 in 1967, the chief said. The chief's annual fire report is scheduled to be presented to the district board next month.

Bridge Commute Hearing Slated

A plan for the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to go into the commute bus business will get its first hearing before bridge district directors at 10 a.m. Wednesday in district offices at the toll plaza.

The plan, presented Jan. 10 by the district's former chief engineer, Arthur C. Jenkins, will be heard by the bridge board's joint commuters' affairs and finance committee. The committee has asked that persons who wish to testify before it also provide a written statement.

Jenkins estimated the cost of setting up a bus system at $8.5 million, and the annual subsidy from bridge revenues at $1,411,000. It could be in full operation in seven months, according to Jenkins.

Ordinance On Signs Gets Airing

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night completed about half of its review of a proposed amendment to the town's sign ordinance.

William McBride, zoning administrator, said the remainder of the review was scheduled for the next regular commission meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 10 at town hall.

Discussed at last night's adjourned meeting was a proposal that the board of design review be given the added duty of being a sign review committee, and that a council-appointed person representing the town's business interests be named to the three-member board.

It also was proposed that the planning commissioner who is also on the board, C. William Thomas, be chairman of the board but not have a voting right.

The chamber of commerce has recommended amendment of the sign ordinance to have a standard set of requirements for all signs along Highway 101.

New Marinites Find $600 Clothing Theft

The theft of about $600 worth of men's and women's clothing and 85 pairs of earrings from her car was reported yesterday by Gertrude Snyder Waller of 1120 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Police said Mrs. Waller reported the theft had occurred at the San Rafael address or at her daughter's home at 579 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, the past month. She said she and her husband had recently moved from Illinois and did not notice the items were missing until the car was unpacked.
